Against The Death Penalty

Hugo Adam Bedau

Against The Death Penalty:

Against the Death Penalty Jon Yorke, 2008 This edited volume brings together leading scholars on the death penalty within international regional and municipal law It considers the intrinsic elements of both the promotion and demise of the punishment around the world and provides analysis which contributes to the evolving abolitionist discourse A

Punishment in Search of a Crime Ian Gray, Moira Stanley, 1989 Debating the Death Penalty Hugo Adam Bedau, Paul G. Cassell, 2005-03-24 When news breaks that a convicted murderer released from prison has killed again or that an innocent person has escaped the death chamber in light of new DNA evidence arguments about capital punishment inevitably heat up Few controversies continue to stir as much emotion as this one and public confusion is often the result This volume brings together seven experts judges lawyers prosecutors and philosophers to debate the death penalty in a spirit of open inquiry and civil discussion Here as the contributors present their reasons for or against capital punishment the multiple facets of the issue are revealed in clear and thought provoking detail Is the death penalty a viable deterrent to future crimes Does the imposition of lesser penalties such as life imprisonment truly serve justice in cases of the worst offences Does the legal system discriminate against poor or minority defendants Is the possibility of executing innocent persons sufficient grounds for abolition In confronting such questions and making their arguments the contributors marshal an impressive array of evidence both statistical and from their own experiences working on death penalty cases The book also includes the text of Governor George Ryan's March 2002 speech in which he explained why he had commuted the sentences of all prisoners on Illinois's death row By representing the viewpoints of experts who face the vexing questions about capital punishment on a daily basis Debating the Death Penalty makes a vital contribution to a more nuanced understanding of the moral and legal problems underlying this controversy

The Death Penalty Louis P. Pojman, Jeffrey Reiman, 2000-01-01 Two distinguished social and political philosophers take opposing positions in this highly engaging work Louis P Pojman justifies the practice of execution by appealing to the principle of retribution we deserve to be rewarded and punished according to the virtue or viciousness of our actions He asserts that the death penalty does deter some potential murderers and that we risk the lives of innocent people who might otherwise live if we refuse to execute those deserving that punishment Jeffrey Reiman argues that although the death penalty is a just punishment for murder we are not morally obliged to execute murderers Since we lack conclusive evidence that executing murderers is an effective deterrent and because we can foster the advance of civilization by demonstrating our intolerance for cruelty in our unwillingness to kill those who kill others Reiman concludes that it is good in principle to avoid the death penalty and bad in practice to impose it Against the Death Penalty Stephen Breyer, 2016-08-23 A landmark dissenting opinion arguing against the death penalty Does the death penalty violate the Constitution In Against the Death Penalty Justice Stephen Breyer argues that it does that it is carried out unfairly and inconsistently and thus violates the ban on cruel and unusual punishments specified by the Eighth Amendment to the Constitution Today's administration of the death penalty Breyer writes involves three fundamental constitutional defects 1 serious unreliability 2 arbitrariness in application and 3 unconscionably long delays that undermine the death penalty's penological purpose Perhaps as a result 4 most places within the United States have abandoned its use This volume contains Breyer's dissent in the case of Glossip v Gross which involved an unsuccessful challenge to Oklahoma's use of a lethal injection drug because it might cause severe pain Justice Breyer's legal citations have been edited to make them understandable to a general audience but the text retains the full force of his powerful argument that the time has come for the Supreme Court to revisit the constitutionality of the death penalty Breyer was joined in his dissent from the bench by Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg Their passionate argument has been cited by many legal experts including fellow Justice Antonin Scalia as signaling an eventual Court ruling striking down the death penalty A similar dissent in 1963 by Breyer's mentor Justice Arthur J Goldberg helped set the stage for a later ruling imposing what turned out to be a four year moratorium on executions

Against Capital Punishment Benjamin Schertz Yost, 2019 Against Capital Punishment develops an innovative argument against the death penalty that sidesteps questions about the morality of execution itself Yost argues that the irrevocability of the death penalty calls for its abolition In so doing he explores the extent of legal institutions responsibility to remedy their mistakes and solves the problems that sabotage other versions of procedural abolitionism

Abolition Robert Badinter, 2008-08-29 The English translation of a behind the scenes account of the abolition of the death penalty in France

Death Penalty in Decline? Austin Sarat, 2024-05-31 This volume presents essays evaluating the similarities and differences between the legal political ethical and practical landscapes confronted by the death penalty abolition movement at the time of the Furman v Georgia decision and subsequent reversal and those confronted by the same movement today

Against the Death Penalty Gardner C. Hanks, 1997 Drawing on Old and New Testament resources as well as secular arguments Gardner C Hanks shows that the death penalty harms rather than helps any quest for a just humane society He demonstrates through research data that the death penalty is an ineffective crime fighting tool

This Life We Take Trevor Thomas, 1965

The Death Penalty in America Hugo Adam Bedau, 1982 A study of capital punishment issues including American attitudes deterrence problems and discussions for and against the death penalty

The Death Penalty Raymond Paternoster, Robert Brame, Sarah Bacon, 2008-05-08 This book addresses one of the most controversial issues in the criminal justice system today the death penalty Paternoster et al present a balanced perspective that focuses on both the arguments for and against capital punishment Coverage draws on legal historical philosophical economic sociological and religious points of view Topics include The history of the death penalty in the United States from the 1600s to today The changing nature of the death penalty changes in the types of crimes that warranted the penalty the procedures employed to put capital offenders on trial and the methods used to impose death Constitutional legal issues surrounding the death penalty The influence of race on the administration of the death penalty both in the past and in the present Justifications for and against the death penalty retribution cost public safety and religious arguments Questions about the execution of innocents exonerated capital offenders and flaws in the operation of the death penalty Public opinion and the death penalty The death penalty and international law and practice The future of the death penalty in America

Against Capital Punishment Herbert H. Haines, 1999-08-19 While most western democracies have renounced the death penalty capital punishment enjoys vast and growing support in the United States A significant and vocal minority however continues to oppose it Against Capital Punishment is the first full account of anti death penalty activism in America during the years since the ten year moratorium on executions ended Building on in depth interviews with movement leaders and the records of key abolitionist organizations this work traces the struggle against the pro death penalty backlash that has steadily gained momentum since the 1970s It reviews the conservative turn in the courts which over the last two decades has forced death penalty opponents to rely less on the litigation strategies that once served them well It describes their efforts to mount a broad based educational and political assault on what they see as the most cruel racist ineffective and expensive manifestation of a criminal justice system gone wrong Despite the efforts of death penalty opponents executions in the United States are on the increase Against Capital Punishment diagnoses the reasons for the failure to mobilize widespread opposition to executions and assesses the prospects for opposition to capital punishment in the future of the United States

Against the Death Penalty Michael Mello, 1996 From 1976 when the United States Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the death penalty in Gregg v Georgia until their retirements in the early 1990s Justices William Brennan and Thurgood Marshall doggedly voted against capital punishment in over 2 500 cases The Justices typically began their opinions by reiterating they were adhering to their views that the death penalty is in all cases cruel and unusual punishment prohibited by the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments While most of the dissents upheld without elaboration their conviction that capital punishment was unconstitutional some explained in detail why even assuming the death penalty might be constitutional its application in the case before the Court was not In this well researched and copiously documented work Michael Mello provides a comprehensive analysis of the legal historical and philosophical underpinnings of the Justices relentless dissents against capital punishment Mello begins with biographical sketches of Brennan and Marshall examining how two men from divergent legal backgrounds came to share an unswerving stance against the death penalty He then considers the historical theoretical and jurisprudential legitimacy of Supreme Court dissents in general and sustained dissents in particular

Coalition Building in the Anti-death Penalty Movement Sandra J. Jones, 2010-01-01 Coalition Building in the Anti Death Penalty Movement uses the concepts of the political process model of social movements to analyze the factors that shape the racial face of the anti death penalty movement Contests are found to emerge over mobilizing and framing strategies as activists react to the political opportunity structure in a manner that privileges moral arguments above the racial ones that would allow them to build a more racially diverse constituency

Death Penalty: A Cruel and Inhuman Punishment Luis Arroyo Zapatero, William Schabas, Kanako Takayama, Marta Muñoz de Morales, Universidad de Castilla-La Mancha, uclm, 2015-01-20 Death penalty A cruel and inhuman punishment is an academic contribution by Academics for abolition aimed at fostering the debate launched by the United Nations General Assembly in its resolution 62 149 on 18 December 2007 calling for a worldwide moratorium on executions by 2015 and continued by the upcoming review process of the UN s Millennium Development Goals MDG It is mainly a compilation of papers written by the speakers at the Seminar Against cruel and inhuman punishment and death penalty which took place at the Real Academia de Bellas Artes de San Fernando in Madrid on 9 June 2013 on the eve of the 5th World Congress against the death penalty The book deals with current issues of the process towards abolition as the lack of evidence about the deterrence effect of death penalty and its consideration as a cruel and inhuman punishment Together with the editors the contribution includes studies among others of H J Albrecht Gabrio Forti Roger Hood Salim Himnat and Sergio Garc a Ram rez The Academic International Network against the Death Penalty REPECAP dedicates this book to the International Commission against the Death Penalty ICDP chaired by Federico Mayor Zaragoza

Fighting the Death Penalty Eugene G. Wanger, 2017-04-01 Michigan is the only state in the country that has a death penalty prohibition in its constitution Eugene G Wanger s compelling arguments against capital punishment is a large reason it is there The forty pieces in this volume are writings created or used by the author who penned the prohibition clause during his fifty years as a death penalty abolitionist His extraordinary background in forensics law and political activity as constitutional convention delegate and co chairman of the Michigan Committee Against Capital Punishment has produced a remarkable collection It is not only a fifty year history of the anti death penalty argument in America it also is a detailed and challenging example of how the argument against capital punishment may be successfully made
