Against The Gnostics:

Against the Gnostics Plotinus, 2017-04-14 At least two modern conferences within Hellenic philosophy fields of study have been held in order to address what Plotinus stated in his tract Against the Gnostics and whom he was addressing it to in order to separate and clarify the events and persons involved in the origin of the term Gnostic From the dialogue it appears that the word had an origin in the Platonic and Hellenistic tradition long before the group calling themselves Gnostics or the group covered under the modern term Gnosticism ever appeared It would seem that this shift from Platonic to Gnostic usage has led many people to confusion The strategy of sectarians taking Greek terms from philosophical contexts and re applying them to religious contexts was popular in Christianity the Cult of Isis and other ancient religious contexts including Hermetic ones see Alexander of Abonutichus for an example Plotinus and the Neoplatonists viewed Gnosticism as a form of heresy or sectarianism to the Pythagorean and Platonic philosophy of the Mediterranean and Middle East He accused them of using senseless jargon and being overly dramatic and insolent in their distortion of Plato's ontology Plotinus attacks his opponents as untraditional irrational and immoral and arrogant He also attacks them as elitist and blasphemous to Plato for the Gnostics despising the material world and its maker The Neoplatonic movement though Plotinus would have simply referred to himself as a philosopher of Plato seems to be motivated by the desire of Plotinus to revive the pagan philosophical tradition Plotinus was not claiming to innovate with the Enneads but to clarify aspects of the works of Plato that he considered misrepresented or misunderstood Plotinus does not claim to be an innovator but rather a communicator of a tradition Plotinus referred to tradition as a way to interpret Plato's intentions Because the teachings of Plato were for members of the academy rather than the general public it was easy for outsiders to misunderstand Plato's meaning However Plotinus attempted to clarify how the philosophers of the academy had not arrived at the same conclusions such as misotheism or dystheism of the creator God as an answer to the problem of evil as the targets of his criticism PLOTINUS

Ennead II.9 Sebastian Gertz, 2017-03-28 How was the universe created and what is our place within it These are the questions at the heart of Plotinus Against the Gnostics For the Gnostics the universe came into being as a result of the soul's fall from intelligible reality it is the evil outcome of a botched creation Plotinus challenges this and insists that the soul's creation of the world is the necessary consequence of its contemplation of the ideal forms While the Gnostics claim to despise the visible universe Plotinus argues that such contempt displays their ignorance of the higher realities of which the cosmos is a beautiful image Plotinus, Ennead II 9 [33] "Against the Gnostics" Nicola Spanu, Plotinus, 2012 This book consists in a commentary and translation of Plotinus's Ennead II 9 33 entitled by Porphyry Against the Gnostics The commentary has tried to go beyond the traditional approach based on the idea that Plotinus's Ennead II 9 is the theatre of the clash of two antithetical worldviews the first championed by Plotinus the second by his Gnostic disciples on the contrary the Ennead II 9 33 represents a dialogue between a master of philosophy and his own disciples Plotinus's disciples do not regard Gnosticism as distant from Plato In contrast Plotinus does not think that Plato is a precursor of Gnosticism even if he is aware that his doctrines can be interpreted in a dualistic and Gnostic fashion He agrees with his disciples that for Plato sensible and intelligible reality as well as Soul and body are different however Plotinus thinks that their different nature can be ultimately traced back to the same principle namely being which contains in itself all possibilities of existence This is the true gnosis that Plotinus has tried to make his disciples obtain by writing the Ennead II 9 33
