Ageism and Mistreatment of Older Workers Patricia Brownell, James J. Kelly, 2012-12-11 This book promotes an understanding of ageism discrimination and mistreatment of older adult workers incorporating an international human rights perspective The impact of ageism on the mistreatment of older adult workers has not to date been examined in depth through the lens of international human rights instruments nor has discrimination against older adults in the workplace been framed as a form of elder abuse for research and policy making purposes This book presents a multi disciplinary exploration of these themes as they affect work and retirement of older adults It reflects the view that older people who choose to work into old age should be able to do so in enabling work environments that promote dignity and are free of abuse The contributing authors come from many disciplines including law psychology social work business and international affairs Many are members of the International Network for the Prevention of Elder Abuse INPEA a non governmental organization with consultative status at the United Nations and have devoted their professional careers to increase awareness and understanding of elder abuse in order to prevent it The editors hope that broadening the framework within which elder abuse in the workplace is understood will stimulate further research policy and program development to address this troubling social problem

Ageism and Person-Centred Care Stephen Buetow,2024-10-14 This thought provoking book exposes the values judgements and hierarchies that underlie ageism in care settings Destabilizing the assumption that biases like ageism are always bad Buetow suggests that ageism is normatively neutral and that truly person centred care requires situated acknowledgement of and responsiveness to its negative and positive aspects Buetow contends that respecting meaningful age differences between persons as moral agents puts ageism on the radar of care environments weakening barriers to engagement His analysis moves from concern for age friendliness to prudent ageism that enables person centred care to apply practical wisdom in everyday age sensitive judgement and decision making Challenging political correctness and advocating for justice rather than social justice Buetow discusses how prudent ageism may advantage some age groups over others in particular circumstances while providing a moral structure for managing real rather than socially constructed differences Looking at how age sensitive judgments combined with a person first approach can inform research policy and practice this book will interest students and researchers from fields like health and social care and disciplines such as sociology psychology politics and philosophy

Power and Poverty Susannah R. Ottaway,Lynn A. Botelho,Katharine Kittredge,2002-10-30 Despite calls since the 1970s for more research into the history of old age there is still a relative dearth of historical studies on the elderly especially in the pre industrial past This volume remedies much of that deficiency with essays exploring the lives of old men and old women and the images of old age and aging in early modern Europe and America Collectively the chapters demonstrate there was a strong association of advanced age with authority in the lived experience of older men and women This book recognizes poverty and physical limitations were a very real threat but challenges the tendency of existing literature on historical gerontology to associate old age with dependence and disability Instead what emerges from this volume is the success of older people in the past in imbuing their old age with dignity despite the often vicious nature of old age in both popular and elite literature Essays are brought together on old age in early modern England France Germany Italy Spain and America enabling comparisons that cross geographical boundaries Historians of old age the family demography social history and cultural history will value this volume as will sociologists and anthropologists interested in gerontology

Subjective Views of Aging Yuval Palgi, Amit Shrira, Manfred Diehl, 2022-08-26

This book focuses on the concept of subjective views of aging. This concept refers to the way individuals conceptualize and perceive the aging process. Social and cultural perceptions regarding older adults are incorporated and internalized into views people hold regarding their own aging process. The book contains three parts which present theoretical, empirical, and translational perspectives about subjective views of aging. The theoretical section expands the framework of subjective views of aging with the inclusion of additional concepts and further integrates these concepts by accounting for their synergistic effects. The empirical section presents recent developments in the field starting at the intra-individual level as assessed by ecological momentary assessments, going through the level of interpersonal relationships and concluding at the social and cultural levels. Finally, the translational section presents recent endeavours to develop interventions aimed at advancing favourable views of aging. This cutting edge edited book includes chapters written by internationally renowned scholars in the field and serves as an up to date resource for scholars in the field as well as a textbook for students in courses like social gerontology, lifespan psychology, and life course sociology.
