Care Of Creation Focusing Concern And Action:

The Care of Creation R. J. Berry, 2000-06-13 There is a belated awareness that scientific and political solutions alone are inadequate when dealing with environmental damage This study from a Christian perspective focuses on active ways to address the state the planet is in Hope for Creation Jonathan J. Bonk, Michel G. Distefano, J. Nelson Jennings, Kim Jinbong, Jae Hoon Lee, 2024-04-02 Can the Desert Be Green Our world is in peril Environmental degradation human suffering and relentless calamities confront us daily painting a picture of a planet in distress Amid this daunting reality how can God's people respond effectively This critical question beckons for a thoughtful and proactive response that intertwines faith and ecology with tangible action in our increasingly fragile world Hope for Creation offers a unique blend of theological insight and practical application It gathers perspectives from theologians and practitioners each giving a comprehensive understanding of creation care The contributors not only diagnose environmental and humanitarian issues but also propose actionable solutions rooted in biblical foundations and contemporary experiences This book is a call to action for Christians and mission leaders worldwide urging active participation in restoring and preserving our planet It equips church leaders missionaries and believers with the knowledge and tools to make a meaningful impact By embracing this mission readers contribute to a sustainable hopeful future joining a transformative journey towards environmental and human healing

The Oxford Handbook of the Bible and Ecology Hilary Marlow, Mark Harris, 2022 Does the Bible have anything to contribute to contemporary concerns about the environment This collection of essays on the Bible and ecology explores biblical texts and their interpretation in the light of ecological issues The handbook covers a number of political and ethical issues as well as offering detailed exploration of individual Bible books It discusses a number of controversial views including whether the Judeo Christian tradition has contributed to the environmental crisis and how the Bible is used by climate change deniers Christian Spiritual Formation Diane J. Chandler, 2014-04-04 This comprehensive theory and practice of Christian spiritual formation weaves together biblical and theological foundations with interdisciplinary scholarship real world examples personal vignettes and practical tools to assist readers in becoming whole persons in relationship with God and others Christian Mission in the Modern World John Stott, Christopher J H Wright, 2016-01-15 Jesus sends us into the world just as God the Father sent him and yet Christians continue to disagree on what this involves Some believe that the focus of Christian mission is evangelizing and saving souls Others emphasize global justice issues or relief and development work Is either view correct on its own John Stott's classic volume first published forty years ago presents an enduring view of Christian mission that is just as needed today Newly updated and expanded by Christopher J H Wright Christian Mission in the Modern World provides a biblically based approach to mission that addresses both spiritual and physical needs With his trademark clarity and conviction Stott illuminates how the Great Commission itself not only assumes the proclamation that makes disciples but also teaches obedience to the Great Commandment of love and service Wright has expertly updated the original book and demonstrates the continuing relevance of Stott's prescient thinking. This balanced approach to mission encourages current and future Christians to embrace an unconflicted and holistic model of ministry. Systemic Crises of Global Climate Change Phoebe Godfrey, Denise Torres, 2016-04-14 Sociological literature tends to view the social categories of race, class, and gender as distinct and has avoided discussing how multiple intersections inform and contribute to experiences of injustice and inequity. This limited focus is clearly inadequate. Systemic Crises of Global Climate Change is an edited volume of 49 international interdisciplinary contributions addressing global climate change (GCC) by intentionally engaging with the issues of race, gender, and class through an intersectional lens. The volume challenges and inspires readers to foster new theoretical and practical linkages and think beyond the traditional and oftentimes reductionist environmental science frame by examining issues within their turbulent political, cultural, and personal landscapes. Varied media and writing styles invite students and educators to reflexively engage different yet complementary approaches to GCC analysis and interpretation, mirroring the disparate voices and viewpoints within the field. The second volume, Emergent Possibilities for Sustainability, will take a similar approach but will examine the possibilities for solutions as in the quest for global sustainability. This book is a valuable resource for academics, researchers, and both undergraduate and postgraduate students in the areas of Environmental Studies, Climate Change, Gender Studies, and International Studies, as well as those seeking a more intersectional analysis of GCC. The Spirit of Sustainability Willis Jenkins, Whitney Bauman, 2009-11-01 The Spirit of Sustainability helps readers navigate the moral worlds and ethical concepts and social and religious practices related to sustainability. In collaboration with the Forum on Religion and Ecology, an established network of leading scholars, it explores a wide range of topics and perspectives from the promise and problems of approaching sustainability through global and indigenous religions to major theories in philosophy and environmental ethics and professional practices and social movements. This volume presents the various goals of sustainability: ecological integrity, economic health, human dignity, fairness to the future, and social justice, and provides a framework for reasoning through many interrelated environmental challenges for both current and future generations. A Theology of Christian Spirituality Samuel M. Powell, 2005

Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith, 2007 Participating in God Samuel M. Powell, 2003 In this exciting work, Samuel Powell offers a new, constructive and systematic vision of creation by interpreting it in terms of contemporary science and trinitarian theology. Powell's work unfolds in three stages, building on the multiple ways the doctrine of creation actually functions for Christians. He first analyzes its regulative dimension. Even in all the multiplicity of historical Christianity, he shows the doctrine commits Christians to a particular set of normative beliefs about the world and God's relation to it. Second, Powell builds on the doctrine's hermeneutical potential. It allows Christians both to interpret the meaning of creation in terms of other prevalent philosophical, religious, or scientific ideas and also to interpret the world as disclosed by scientific theory in theological terms. In the heart of his book, Powell correlates creaturely characteristics with their participation in

God through the trinitarian persons Finally in light of his findings Powell drives home the often ignored ethical dimension of the doctrine especially in relation to the environment our consumerist lifestyle and eschatology Powell s bold proposal harvests from two of the most fruitful fields of recent theology trinitarian theory and religion and science and crafts a creative new vision of how we and all creation participate in the life and work of the triune God Religion and the Environmental Challenge Zaleha Syed Hassan (Sharifah),Adnan A. Hezri,2009 Life in Our Hands John Bryant,John Searle,2004 Explores the ethics of genetic and biological modification of plants animals and humans Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society of England Royal Agricultural Society of England,2002 An Ecological Christian Anthropology E. M. Conradie,2005 What is the place and vocation of human beings in the earth community This is the central question that this contribution towards a Christian ecological anthropology addresses In ecological theology this question is often answered by the affirmation that We are at home on earth This affirmation rightly responds to the widespread sense of alienation from nature to the anthropocentrism that pervades much of the Christian tradition and to concerns about the scope of environmental devastation This book challenges the affirmation that we are at home on earth examining natural suffering anxieties concerning human finitude and especially the pervasiveness of evil The book investigates contributions to ecological theology South African and African theology reformed theology and contemporary dialogues between theology and the sciences in search of a thoroughly ecological Christian anthropology Aquatic Stewardship Education in Theory and Practice William F. Siemer,Barbara Ann Knuth,2007 Second Opinion ,2002 Health faith ethics Christianity, Climate Change and Sustainable Living Nick Spencer,Robert White,2007 This book represents the first serious Christian engagement with the emerging issue of sustainable consumption and production Spencer and White analyse the scientific sociological economic and theological thinking that makes a Christian response to these trends both imperative and distinctive Their practical conclusions explore what can be done at the personal community national and international levels to make sustainable living a reality Firmly rooted in the good news of the Christian faith this is above all a constructive and hopeful book that offers a realistic vision of a better future Book Jacket The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2000 Environmental Ethics ,2004 International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,2000
