Caribbean Literature:

Caribbean Literature in English Louis James, 2014-07-30 Caribbean Literature in English places its subject in its precise regional context The Caribbean generally considered as one area is highly discrete in its topography race and languages including mainland Guyana the Atlantic island of Barbados the Lesser Antilles Trinidad and Jamaica whose size and history gave it an early sense of separate nationhood Beginning with Raleigh's Discoverie of Guiana 1596 this innovative study traces the sometimes surprising evolution of cultures which shared a common experience of slavery but were intimately related to individual local areas The approach is interdisciplinary examining the heritage of the plantation era and the issues of language and racial identity it created From this base Louis James reassesses the phenomenal expansion of writing in the contemporary period He traces the influence of pan Caribbean movements and the creation of an expatriate Caribbean identity in Britain and America Britain is considered as a West Indian island created by colonization in reverse Further sections treat the development of a Caribbean aesthetic and the repossession of cultural roots from Africa and Asia Balancing an awareness of the regional identity of Caribbean literature with an exploration of its place in world and postcolonial literatures this study offers a panoramic view that has become one of the most vital of the new literatures in English This accessible overview of Caribbean writing will appeal to the general reader and student alike and particularly to all who are interested in or studying Caribbean literatures and culture postcolonial studies Commonwealth new literatures and contemporary literature and drama

Critical Perspectives on Caribbean Literature and Culture Dorsía Smith, Tatiana Tagirova, 2011-01-18 Critical Perspectives on Caribbean Literature and Culture is a collection of a dozen essays by Caribbean scholars living in the Caribbean and around the world Each of the three sections of the book explores the Caribbean as a diasporic space through the lenses of literary and cultural systems

Negotiating Borders Women Sexuality and Identity examines the creolized identities of Caribbean societies gender roles of women impact of sexual tourism and censorship of Latino gays and lesbians The essayists in this section note that much work still needs to be done in academia to give voice to repressed Caribbean populations

Creating Spaces of Caribbean Artistic Expression Multiple Representations focuses on how music identity art and language depict the diversity of the Caribbean experience In this section the essayists examine how the process of creation extends to new cultural expressions

Deconstructing the Diaspora Caribbean Writers as Political Activists takes into account the tension between oppressor and oppressed a pressing issue for many Caribbean authors and focuses on the role of writers in reconstructing Caribbean culture politics and history In pursuit of a more comprehensive West Indian view this publication provides a novel perspective on Caribbean literary cultural and historical experience The essays featured complement each other in their representation of the multiplicitous Caribbean region with all its claims and anxieties They cover a wide range of writers and diverse cross cultural encounters within the Caribbean region and reflect on issues such as Caribbean identity migration and artistic form of expression This publication cuts across geographies cultures and disciplines enriching Caribbean scholarship by recognizing the Caribbean s tradition of resistance and courage

Twentieth-Century Caribbean Literature Alison Donnell, 2007-05-07 A historiography of Caribbean literary history and criticism the author explores different critical approaches and textual peepholes to re examine the way twentieth century Caribbean literature in English may be read and understood

Caribbean Literature in Transition, 1800-1920: Volume 1 Evelyn O'Callaghan, Tim Watson, 2021-01-14 This volume examines what Caribbean literature looked like before 1920 by surveying the print culture of the period The emphasis is on narrative including an enormous range of genres in varying venues and in multiple languages of the Caribbean Essays examine lesser known authors and writing previously marginalized as nonliterary popular writing in newspapers and pamphlets fiction and poetry such as romances sentimental novels and ballads non elite memoirs and letters such as the narratives of the enslaved or the working classes especially women Many contributions are comparative multilingual and regional Some infer the cultural presence of subaltern groups within the texts of the dominant classes Almost all of the chapters move easily between time periods linking texts writers and literary movements in ways that expand traditional notions of literary influence and canon formation Using literary cultural and historical analyses this book provides a complete re examination of early Caribbean literature

Dance Between Two Cultures William Luis, 2001 Offers insights on Latino Caribbean writers born or raised in the United States who are at the vanguard of a literary movement that has captured both critical and popular interest In this groundbreaking study William Luis analyzes the most salient and representative narrative and poetic works of the newest literary movement to emerge in Spanish American and U S literatures The book is divided into three sections each focused on representative Puerto Rican American Cuban American and Dominican American authors Luis traces the writers origins and influences from the nineteenth century to the present focusing especially on the contemporary works of Oscar Hijuelos Julia Alvarez Cristina Garcia and Piri Thomas among others While engaging in close readings of the texts Luis places them in a broader social historical political and racial perspective to expose the tension between text and context As a group Latino Caribbeans write an ethnic literature in English that is born of their struggle to forge an identity separate from both the influences of their parents culture and those of the United States For these writers their parents country of origin is a distant memory They have developed a culture of resistance and a language that mediates between their parents identity and the culture that they themselves live in Latino Caribbeans are engaged in a metaphorical dance with Anglo Americans as the dominant culture Just as that dance represents a coming together of separate influences to make a unique art form so do both Hispanic and North American cultures combine to bring a new literature into being This new body of literature helps us to understand not only the adjustments Latino Caribbean cultures have had to make within the larger U S environment but also how the dominant culture has been affected by their presence

Nationalism and the Formation of Caribbean Literature L. Rosenberg, 2016-04-30 This book tells the story of how intellectuals in the English speaking Caribbean first created a distinctly Caribbean and national literature As traditionally told this story begins in the 1950s with the arrival and triumph of V S Naipaul George Lamming and their peers in the London literary scene However Afro Caribbeans were writing literature already in the 1840s as part of larger movements for political rights economic opportunity and social status Rosenberg offers a history of this first one hundred years of anglophone Caribbean literature and a critique of Caribbean literary studies that explains its neglect A historically contextualized study of both canonical and noncanonical writers this book makes the case that the few well known Caribbean writers from this earlier period Claude McKay Jean Rhys and C L R James participated in a larger Caribbean literary movement that directly contributed to the rise of nationalism in the region This movement reveals the prominence of Indian and other immigrant groups of feminism and of homosexuality in the formation of national literatures

Caribbean Literature and the Environment Elizabeth M. DeLoughrey, Renée K. Gosson, George B. Handley, 2005 Examines the literatures of the Caribbean from an ecocritical perspective in all language areas of the region This book explores the ways in which the history of transplantation and settlement has provided unique challenges and opportunities for establishing a sense of place and an environmental ethic in the Caribbean

The Other America J. Michael Dash, 1998 A wide ranging work that explores two centuries of Caribbean literature from a comparative perspective While haunted by the need to establish cultural difference and authenticity Caribbean thought is inherently modernist in its recognition of the interplay between cultures brought about by centuries of contact domination and consent

Caribbean Without Borders Raquel Puig, Dorsía Smith, 2008-12-18 Caribbean Studies is an emerging field As such many topics within this discipline have yet to be explored and developed This collection of essays is one of the forerunners dedicated to a comprehensive study of the literature language and culture of the Caribbean By exploring the works of such prominent literary scholars as Samuel Selvon and Lorna Goodison as well as the myriad of issues pertaining to the Caribbean experience this volume provides an engaging overview of literary language and cultural analysis Because of this wide range of essays this text meets a need to examine the Caribbean in its complexity which is rarely addressed

Writing in Limbo Simon Gikandi, 2018-03-15 In Simon Gikandi's view Caribbean literature and postcolonial literature more generally negotiate an uneasy relationship with the concepts of modernism and modernity a relationship in which the Caribbean writer unable to escape a history encoded by Europe accepts the challenge of rewriting it Drawing on contemporary deconstructionist theory Gikandi looks at how such Caribbean writers as George Lamming Samuel Selvon Alejo Carpentier C L R James Paule Marshall Merle Hodge Zee Edgell and Michelle Cliff have attempted to confront European modernism

Violence in Caribbean Literature Véronique Maisier, 2014-12-11 Violence in Caribbean Literature Stories of Stones and Blood this book looks at the scene of the throwing of a stone found in five novels and uses it as a starting point to an examination of the turmoil of history in the Caribbean the colonial education imposed on Caribbean populations the gendered relations that exist today in the Caribbean region the political status and aspirations of Caribbean nations and the psychological impact of colonization on Caribbean minds The trope of the stone and the analysis of the violence it delivers provide the thread that conducts the linked readings of these novels written by Dominican Jean Rhys Trinidadian Merle Hodge Guadeloupean Gis le Pineau Martinican Patrick Chamoiseau and Jamaican American Michelle Cliff The analytical and critical readings of these writers novels complement each other and draw out their commonalities echoes and differences while the juxtaposition of Anglophone and Francophone novels from different Caribbean nations contributes to a polyphonic understanding of the region While the book offers diversity in the range of countries and languages represented and in the interdisciplinarity of the scholarly fields that intersect in its cultural discussions it maintains its coherence by the unifying theme of violence and its representations in Caribbean literature

Caribbean Literature and the Public Sphere Raphael Dalleo, 2011-10-17 Bringing together the most exciting recent archival work in anglophone francophone and hispanophone Caribbean studies Raphael Dalleo constructs a new literary history of the region that is both comprehensive and innovative He examines how changes in political economic and social structures have produced different sets of possibilities for writers to imagine their relationship to the institutions of the public sphere In the process he provides a new context for rereading such major writers as Mary Seacole Jos Mart Jacques Roumain Claude McKay Marie Chauvet and George Lamming while also drawing lesser known figures into the story Dalleo s comparative approach will be important to Caribbeanists from all of the region s linguistic traditions and his book contributes even more broadly to debates in Latin American and postcolonial studies about postmodernity and globalization

Emigration and Caribbean Literature Malachi McIntosh, 2016-04-29 During and after the two World Wars a cohort of Caribbean authors migrated to the UK and France Dissecting writers like Lamming C saire and Glissant McIntosh reveals how these Caribbean writers were pushed to represent themselves as authentic spokesmen for their people coming to represent the concerns of the emigrant intellectual community

The Routledge Reader in Caribbean Literature Alison Donnell, Sarah Lawson Welsh, 1996 The Routledge Reader in Caribbean Literature is an outstanding compilation of over seventy primary and secondary texts of writing from the Caribbean Locating key writers within a specifically Caribbean framework the editors Alison Donnell and Sarah Lawson Welsh demonstrate that these singular voices have emerged not out of a cultural void or sparse literary background but out of a wealth of literary tradition which until now was unknown or critically neglected Writers from 1900 to the present both famous and less well known are given a voice in this remarkable anthology which encompasses poetry short stories essays articles and interviews Amongst the many represented here are C L R James George Lamming Jean Rhys Benjamin Zephaniah Claude McKay Jamaica Kincaid Sylvia Wynter Derek Walcott David Dabydeen Grace Nichols The editors provide an accessible historical and cultural introduction to the writings making this volume an ideal teaching tool as well as a fascinating collection for anyone interested in the literature of the Caribbean

Caribbean Literature. A critical analysis of the issues raised in texts by Mais, Lamming, Naipaul and Walcott

Mathias Mwinzi, 2016-12-08 Essay from the year 2016 in the subject Literature Caribbean language English abstract Caribbean literature is the combination of works from the islands of the Caribbean The Caribbean islands are also called the home of the noble savage because they were islands of primitive men These islands have no large mass of land and are distant from the rest of the world The attachment of the dwellers to their individual islands have been a problem to the growth of a broader and unified Caribbean culture To most Caribbean writers their landscapes are an important aspect of literature The Caribbean writers have similar issues that they raise in their text because they share similar social economical political and historical challenges This is because literature writers write texts that mirror their societies Issues that are raised in literary texts from the Caribbean texts vary from discrimination role of women violence weak family units and disillusionment Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization Professor Helen C Scott, 2013-04-28 Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization offers a fresh reading of contemporary literature by Caribbean women in the context of global and local economic forces providing a valuable corrective to much Caribbean feminist literary criticism Departing from the trend towards thematic diasporic studies Helen Scott considers each text in light of its national historical and cultural origins while also acknowledging regional and international patterns Though the work of Caribbean women writers is apparently less political than the male dominated literature of national liberation Scott argues that these women nonetheless express the sociopolitical realities of the postindependent Caribbean providing insight into the dynamics of imperialism that survive the demise of formal colonialism In addition she identifies the specific aesthetic qualities that reach beyond the confines of geography and history in the work of such writers as Oonya Kempadoo Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat Pauline Melville and Janice Shinebourne Throughout Scott's persuasive and accessible study sustains the dialectical principle that art is inseparable from social forces and yet always strains against the limits they impose Her book will be an indispensable resource for literature and women's studies scholars as well as for those interested in postcolonial cultural and globalization studies Here and Elsewhere Gerald Guinness, 1993 Through the essays included in this text we can attest to Gerald Guinness stature as an intelligent innovative WHAT DID HE SAY WHAT DID HE MEAN THE ETHNOGRAPHY OF DISCOURSE IN PUERTO RICO Caribbean Literature George Robert Coulthard, 1971 Madness in Anglophone Caribbean Literature Bénédicte Ledent, Evelyn O'Callaghan, Daria Tunca, 2018-11-23 This collection takes as its starting point the ubiquitous representation of various forms of mental illness breakdown and psychopathology in Caribbean writing and the fact that this topic has been relatively neglected in criticism especially in Anglophone texts apart from the scholarship devoted to Jean Rhys's Wide Sargasso Sea 1966 The contributions to this volume demonstrate that much remains to be done in rethinking the trope of madness across Caribbean literature by local and diaspora writers This book asks how focusing on literary manifestations of apparent mental aberration can extend our understanding of Caribbean narrative and culture and can help us to interrogate the norms that have been used to categorize art from the region as well as the boundaries between notions of rationality transcendence and insanity across cultures
