Caring For Older Europeans Comparative Studies In 29 Countries:

Caring for Older Europeans George Giacinto Giarchi,1994 Caring for Older Europeans George Giacinto Giarchi,1996

This book provides a unique reference source covering the various modes of care both formal and informal for the older people throughout Europe With the growing ageing population this book is essential reading for understanding the current shifting welfare mix in Europe and the implicit consequences for the state and for society of caring for older Europeans

Family Care of Older People in Europe Ian Philp,2001 Developing appropriate responses to an ageing population is recognized by policy makers throughout the developed world as a top priority as is the vital contribution made by family caregivers However cultural demographic and organizational differences between countries have encouraged diverse patterns of response to this common challenge This book provides a systematic cross cultural analysis of contemporary patterns and future trends in all major countries of the European Union Additional interest is provided by including Poland emerging from the post Communist block as the country at the forefront for joining the European Union The book should be useful to European policy makers and academics involved in studying the health and social care needs of older people and the capacity contribution and needs of family caregivers who provide care to older people The book is also relevant for policy makers and researchers in other countries mostly in North America and Australia who wish to study European approaches to supporting older people and family caregivers Equity Choices and Long-Term Care Policies in Europe August

Oesterle,2017-07-05 This title was first published in 2001 Employing an interdisciplinary and comparative approach to equity in long term care this book addresses the fact that demographic changes leading to ageing populations financial pressures and changes in traditional support systems have brought long term care and the redesign of care systems to the top of the European social policy agenda Despite the importance of this issue however the question of equity in long term care has until now received relatively little attention in social policy research Rather than focusing on theories of social justice or the analysis of specific interpretations of equity this book develops key dimensions of equity choices in a framework for systematic comparative analysis This tool is then used to investigate long term care policies in Europe exploring equity choices in both the provision and the finance of long term care These choices are discussed comparatively with regard to the implications for the various actors and are also contrasted with basic welfare state objectives This book represents an important addition to comparative research into several key areas of welfare and welfare state design It explores the division of responsibilities in long term care systems between the public and private and formal and informal sectors the relationships between different welfare state objectives the different types of welfare state intervention and the principles and choices surrounding the allocation of resources and burdens Families Caring Across Borders Loretta Baldassar,Cora
