

Crossroads

*Stuck at a crossroad which way to go,
Seems so familiar I need someone who knows,
Approced with subtle, no one to lead,
So hard to decide, So easy to describe.*

*One shines on bright the other looks so doomed,
Shall I clean all the mess or move on with fools,
Lust grows in me to leave it behind,
Don't wanna end up alone just with time.*

*Yet I segregate from all of those fools,
In search of a copper I wish for a gold,
Lonely it is in this darkest woods,
No fire can heal, this coldest of souls.*

*I wish I could turn and follow the fools,
I did what was right but ended up doomed
I feel time is right to make a big move,
No looking back now headed for moon.*

Crossroads Poems:

Crossroads David R. Slavitt, 1994-02-01 In his twelfth book of original verse David R Slavitt leads us to a crossroads where terror loneliness and despair are transfigured by love and art Much of the collection centers on the poet s family history In the title poem Slavitt imagines the dour landscape of the Polish hamlet his grandparents left in search of a safer haven at the same time that he reflects ruefully on the hazards of contemporary life in America but what they abandoned is what I dream of now asleep while people who don t even know my name monitor consoles that show what zones in my house have been violated what doors or windows opened or motion sensors tripped by the cat or some intruder On the street cars are stolen and stripped by desperate men wild children Who can say In another poem he recalls his mother and his discovery only after her death her murder that the name she had been given was not Adele but Ida As a young woman she had chosen to call herself something not too cute but not too plain not Ida And it is Adele he decides on for her grave marker in deference to her whimsical and brave spirit Not only family but also the worlds of art music and literature animate Slavitt s verses from a consideration of the modes of salvation suggested by El Greco s and Goy s paintings of Saint Peter to a reflection upon our common response to a discordantly tuned instrument from echoes of Paradise Lost to witty and deft variations on Catullus Throughout this collection David Slavitt s keen intelligence wry humor and deep compassion shine through Crossroads allows us to observe a poet working at the peak of his powers Ledger of Crossroads James Brasfield, 2009-12-01 In James Brasfield s Ledger of Crossroads layered by light and shadow the crossroads emerge from distinct yet inseparable geographies Grounded in the sensual world the poems fuse American and Eastern European landscapes the char of silence and beauty brick foundations of what was here dirt roads cut through pines rivers and the dust of the dead Here are experiences from the American South of those who believed Jim Crow the way things had to be and from the fallen imperiums of those who have always returned to fewer trees and a wall whose intimate perceptions provide moments of reprieves beyond the faint scent of almond in the air and heavy clouds funneling from the earth into snowfall the current calmed within that distant bend of the Vistula Here we become the identities of others their time and place from the strata of their histories They enter our lives Poems from Time Past Emily Blake Vail, 2012-04-09 There is no available information at this time Crossroads Alphonso Crawford, 2016-02-26 These poems deal with major problems that we are confronted with on a daily basis Crossroads speaks to the worldwide racial divide and political confusion that engulfs all of us Crossroads illuminates so vividly that we are going in the wrong direction Crossroads Robert W. Hamblin, 2010 Poetry Bob Hamblin doesn t miss much of importance whether he actually remembers it or makes it up like any poet to fill the gaps that memory can t reach These strong evocative poems will reach those gaps in our memories too make us whole by removing the screens which often keep us from remembering what we saw from seeing what we remember These poems are clear eyed and moving Crossroads Moses (Ras., Desmond), 1983 Intersections Corina Cristea, 2009-07-01

Intersections is about the journey through life as told through a collection of poems that touch the soul We are all on a mystical journey and Corina Cristea takes us through a series of stories about life and death happiness and sadness As we all move forward on our journey we learn about strength and weakness making promises and breaking promises forgiving and unforgiving love lost and love found Intersections is about unrequited love and the belief that love is not about keeping but rather giving it is not about holding grudges but rather letting go it is not about expectations but rather expecting nothing in return Love can heal and love can hurt but in the end love is an amazing and powerful emotion Without it life really has no meaning And in the end no matter which way we go on life s path and what decisions we make along the way we all inevitably meet at the same intersections
