Coinage and Coin Use in Medieval Italy Alessia Rovelli, 2023-05-31 The volume gathers together seventeen articles dedicated to the monetary history of medieval Italy most of them newly translated into English The articles in the first section of the volume trace the development of monetisation in Italy from the Lombard period until the rise of the communes taking Rome Lazio Tuscany and several cities and regions in north central Italy as case studies The articles in the second section analyse different aspects of monetary production and circulation in Byzantine Italy while the third gathers together studies on various aspects of Carolingian coinage the transition from the Lombard system and the problem of furnishing an adequate supply of silver mints and royal administration and the activity and inactivity of mints operating at the edges of the Regnum Italiae All of the articles share the author's characteristic concern with setting the evidence from written sources against the wealth of new data emerging from recent archaeological research

Animals in Greek and Roman Religion and Myth Patricia A. Johnston, Attilio Mastrocinque, 2016-08-17 This volume brings together a variety of approaches to the different ways in which the role of animals was understood in ancient Greco Roman myth and religion across a period of several centuries from Preclassical Greece to Late Antique Rome Animals in Greco Roman antiquity were thought to be intermediaries between men and gods and they played a pivotal role in sacrificial rituals and divination the foundations of pagan religion The studies in the first part of the volume examine the role of the animals in sacrifice and divination The second part explores the similarities between animals on the one hand and men and gods on the other Indeed in antiquity the behaviour of several animals was perceived to mirror human behaviour while the selection of the various animals as sacrificial victims to specific deities often was determined on account of some peculiar habit that echoed a special attribute of the particular deity The last part of this volume is devoted to the study of animal metamorphosis and to this end a number of myths that associate various animals with transformation are examined from a variety of perspectives

Rhetoric and Reality in Early Christianities Willi Braun, 2006-01-01 One of the most pressing issues for scholars of religion concerns the role of persuasion in early Christianities and other religions in Greco Roman antiquity The essays in Rhetoric and Reality in Early Christianities explore questions about persuasion and its relationship to early Christianities The contributors theorize about persuasion as the effect of verbal performances such as argumentation in accordance with rules of rhetoric or as a result of other types of performance ritual behavioural or imagistic They discuss the relationship between the verbal performance of rhetoric and other performative modes in generating sustaining and transmitting a persuasive form of religiosity The essays in this book cover a wide chronological range from the first century to late antiquity and diverse topical examples contribute to the collection's thematic centre the relations among formalized and technical verbal performances rhetoric texts and other forms of persuasive performances ritual practices the social agendas that early Christians pursued by means of verbal rhetorical performances and the larger social context in which Christians and other religious groups competitively jockeyed to attract the minds and bodies of audiences in the Greco Roman world
