Cuba Libre Breaking The Chains:

Cuba Libre Peter H. Marshall, 1987 Timba: The Sound of the Cuban Crisis Vincenzo Perna, 2017-07-05 Cuban music is recognized unanimously as a major historical force behind Latin American popular music and as an important player in the development of US popular music and jazz. However, the music produced on the island after the Revolution in 1959 has been largely overlooked and overshadowed by the Buena Vista Social Club phenomenon. The Revolution created the conditions for the birth of a type of highly sophisticated popular music which has grown relatively free from market pressures. These conditions premised the new importance attained by Afro-Cuban dance music during the 1990s when the island entered a period of deep economic and social crisis that has shaken Revolutionary institutions from their foundations. Vincenzo Perna investigates the role of black popular music in post-Revolutionary Cuba and in the 1990s in particular. The emergence of timba is analysed as a distinctively new style of Afro-Cuban dance music. The controversial role of Afro-Cuban working class culture is highlighted, showing how this has resisted co-optation into a unified, pacified vision of national culture and built musical bridges with the transnational black diaspora. Musically, timba represents an innovative fusion of previous popular and folkloric Afro-Cuban styles with elements of hip-hop and other African American styles like jazz, funk and salsa. Timba articulates a black urban youth subculture with distinctive visual and choreographic codes. With its abrasive commentaries on issues such as race, consumer culture, tourism, prostitution and its connections to the underworld, timba demonstrates at the street level many of the contradictions of contemporary Cuban society. After repeatedly colliding with official discourses, timba has eventually met with institutional repression. This book will appeal not only to ethnomusicologists and those working on popular music studies but also to those working in the areas of cultural and Black studies, anthropology, Latin American studies.

Cuba, Cuba's Fidel Lee Lockwood, 2003-06-30 Mr Lockwood's exciting book holds many surprises for the reader who has seen the Cuban reality up to now only through the distorting prism of propaganda. During Mr Lockwood's latest 14 week visit to Cuba in 1965 he had a seven day marathon conversation with Fidel the transcription of which with excellent photographs constitutes the heart of the book. A first rate psychological document this book is also an historical one in that it contains information necessary to the understanding of several conversational questions such as the priority given agriculture in the development of the Cuban economy the dissension between Moscow and Havana or even the intellectual road by which Castro came to Marxism. Moreover it provides particulars up to now unknown. Claude Julien The New York Times Book Review Lockwood gives us crowds posters individual studies Fidel in every possible mood the cities farms country towns most of Cuba is in the photographs. Lockwood's text consists mainly of excerpts from several interviews he got from Fidel in 1965. In one way or another Fidel touches on all the events of crucial importance from the beginning of the insurrection until 1965 and the interviews thus become an explanation of the revolution that we badly need. Jose Yglesias The New Republic The author's questions to Fidel are tough and penetrating and they elicited the same kind of answers. The lively record deserves and encourages serious study. K G Jackson Harper's Magazine Given the paucity of scholarly work on contemporary Cuba and the difficulty of visiting the island the photographs interview materials and interpretations of this gifted journalist must go high on the reading list of anyone professional or lay person who maintains a serious interest in Cuban affairs and in that most dramatic and important of twentieth century Latin American leaders Fidel Castro. An Air War with Cuba Daniel C. Walsh, 2011-11-16 Since 1985 Radio Marti a Radio Free Europe type station has broadcast American news and propaganda in Cuba. Its sister station TV Marti debuted in 1990. Respected operations at the start Radio and TV Marti fell under the influence of the Cuban American National Foundation a group of hard line Cuban exiles who intensified the anti Castro rhetoric the stations sent to the island and promoted its leaders as the heirs to a post Castro Cuba. Though the initial goal of the two stations was to increase pro American sentiment among the island nation's citizens the stations have succeeded only in driving the two nations further apart. This history of American propaganda broadcasting in Cuba describes how Castro used radio to obtain power explores the impact of Radio and TV Marti on U S Cuba relations including the phenomenon of Cuban rafters and chronicles the domestic political struggles to keep the stations on the air.
