Art Of Medieval Technology:

The Art of Medieval Technology Richard W. Unger, 1991 Art of Medieval Technology Unger, 1991 AVISTA studies in the history of medieval technology, science and art Science and Art Association Villard de Honnecourt for the Interdisciplinary Study of Medieval Technology, 2002 The Worlds of Villard de Honnecourt: The Portfolio, Medieval Technology, and Gothic Monuments, 2022-12-12 This book charts the past present and future of studies on medieval technology art and craft practices Inspired by Villard s enigmatic portfolio of artistic and engineering drawings this collection explores the multiple facets of medieval building represented in this manuscript Paris Biblioth que nationale de France MS Fr 19093 The book s eighteen essays and two introductions showcase traditional and emergent methods for the study of medieval craft demonstrating how these diverse approaches collectively amplify our understanding about how medieval people built engineered and represented their world Contributions range from the analysis of words and images in Villard s portfolio to the close analysis of masonry technological marvels and gothic architecture pointing the way toward new avenues for future scholarship to explore Contributors are Mickey Abel Carl F Barnes Jr Robert Bork George Brooks Michael T Davis Amy Gillette Erik Gustafson Maile S Hutterer John James William Sayers Ellen Shortell Alice Isabella Sullivan Richard Alfred Sundt Sarah Thompson Steven A Walton Maggie M Williams Kathleen Wilson Ruffo and Nancy Wu The Art, Science, and Technology of Medieval Travel Robert Odell Bork, Andrea Kann, 2008 This sixth volume in the AVISTA series considers medieval travel from a variety of interdisciplinary perspectives placing the physical practice of transportation in the larger context of medieval thought about the world and its meaning The papers included cover vehicle design and logistical management the practicalities of how travellers oriented themselves and the symbolism of the landscapes and maps created in the Middle Ages Villard's Legacy Marie-Thérèse Zenner, 2017-05-15 Villard s Legacy is in memory of the celebrated iconoclastic historian Jean Gimpel and represents a fundamental contribution to the new AVISTA series with Ashgate Publishing AVISTA was the brainchild of Gimpel a genius at making the right people meet to advance knowledge through a confluence of ideas drawn equally from the practical and scholarly domains Sixteen papers and a tribute to Gimpel underscore this confluence of technology science and art within medieval culture Appropriately six papers offer new interpretations on aspects of Villard de Honnecourt s portfolio which Gimpel rightly recognized and promoted as a unique and precious record of pre modern technology and culture This thirteenth century manuscript is now known to a wider public as the earliest testimony left by a master builder in Gothic Europe Of particular significance for the first time in eight centuries a Compagnon du Devoir initiated in the same oral tradition as Villard opens the door to interpreting these remarkable drawings Three papers address previously ignored aspects in the construction of French and English Gothic churches from the engineering of aerodynamic spires to the elastic materials of vault webbing to the social conventions of formal design Three other contributors treat essential elements of a broader technological culture such as the horse harness and the minting of coins as well as the applicability of medieval technology to the modern world in particular third world countries a project pioneered by Gimpel Four papers conclude the volume by treating the sciences of measure and their cultural expression in medieval Europe embracing both the concepts of space and time geometry as a mathematical discipline and the graphic expression of scientific data These interdisciplinary studies are comprehensive in chronological and geographic range extending from the 8th to 15th centuries from Ireland across Europe

Craft Theory and Contemporary Architecture Grant Alford, 2025-05-28 This book offers a comprehensive exploration of craft theory in relation to contemporary architecture Craft is an old and familiar idea but the line between craft and art or craft and mere manufacturing for example is notoriously hard to describe In architecture a similarly blurred line between the design process on the one hand and the physical making of buildings on the other lies at the center of various debates about what it means to do architecture The growth and development of craft theory in recent years suggest new insights into these architectural debates but situating the meaning of craft within architecture within today s technological landscape is a complex problem Alford responds to this challenge by collecting various narratives from craft theory and other fields and discerning among them new lenses through which to view contemporary architectural practice Episodes from this expanded view of craft in architecture go beyond predictable accounts of Ruskin and Morris to envision new models of practice new ways of engaging other building professionals and new ways for architects to understand their own labor and the nature of how and what kinds of things they themselves craft Architecture is changing and within the ongoing story of craft explored in this book are new and surprising ways to understand design and construct the built environment Written for students and scholars this book challenges and extends the legacy of craft thinking in architecture

Fifty Years of Medieval Technology and Social Change Steven A. Walton, 2019-08-22 This volume brings together a series of papers at Kalamazoo as well as some contributed papers inspired by the fiftieth anniversary of the publication of Lynn White Jr s Medieval Technology and Social Change 1962 a slim study which catalyzed the study of technology in the Middle Ages in the English speaking world While the initial reviews and decades long fortune of the volume have been varied it is still in print and remains a touchstone of an idea and a time The contributors to the volume therefore both investigate the book itself and its fate and look at new research furthering and inspired by White s work The book opens with an introduction surveying White s career with a bibliography of his work as well as some opening thoughts on the study of medieval technology in the last fifty years Three papers then deal explicitly with the reception and longevity of his work and its impact on medieval studies more generally Then five papers look at new cast studies areas where White s work and approach has had a particular impact namely medieval technology studies and medieval rural ecological studies edition of the Portfolio of the 13th century Picard artist Villard de Honnecourt is the first ever to be published in color. The thirty three leaves are reproduced at actual size from high quality color transparencies to ensure the best possible color reproduction of the drawings. One can now see variations in inks and quill strokes, traces of preliminary drawings and corrections made by the artist. This study is also the first to give a thorough description of the condition of the leaves, analysis of each drawing in the portfolio individually and new transcriptions and literal and free translations of the inscriptions. The opening chapter covers the history and physical condition of the portfolio including reassigning hands to text found on the leaves. The author analyses the tools and inks used, Villard's drawing technique and style and evaluates Villard as an artist, draftsman. Chapter II, the body of the book, is devoted to detailed analyses of the leaves, one by one, and their drawings and inscriptions. These analyses are of interest to those concerned with medieval technology and theology as well as to those interested in medieval art and architecture. Chapter III is a new biography of Villard that challenges the many wild speculations of the last century and a half about Villard, separating obvious fiction from possible fact. Barnes analyzes in detail Villard's drawings of different Gothic buildings and makes a case for Villard having been a lay representative of the cathedral chapter at Cambrai, one of the buildings Villard drew. An extensive bibliography of Villard studies and a glossary of Villard's technical and artistic terms complete this important new study.

Postcolonising the Medieval Image Eva Frojmovic, Catherine E. Karkov, 2017-03-16. Postcolonial theories have transformed literary, historical and cultural studies over the past three decades. Yet the study of medieval art and visualities has in general remained Eurocentric in its canon and conservative in its approaches. Postcolonising, as the eleven essays in this volume show, entails active intervention into the field of medieval art history and visual studies through a theoretical reframing of research. This approach poses and elicits new research questions and tests how concepts current in postcolonial studies, such as diaspora and migration, under-represented artistic cultures, accented art-making, displacement, intercultural versus transcultural hybridity, presence/absence, can help medievalists to reinvigorate the study of art and visuality. Postcolonial concepts are deployed in order to redraft the canon of medieval art, thereby seeking to build bridges between medievalist and modernist communities of scholars. Among the varied topics explored in the volume are the appropriation of Roman iconography by early medieval Scandinavian metalworkers, multilingualism and materiality in Anglo-Saxon culture, the circulation and display of Islamic secular ceramics on Pisan churches, cultural negotiation by Jewish minorities in Central Europe and the Iberian peninsula, Holy Land maps and medieval imaginative geography, and the uses of Thomas Becket in the colonial imaginary of the Plantagenet court.
