A Novel

"A burning flare of a novel, at once incendiary and illuminating."

Voices of Vietnamese Boat People Mary Terrell Cargill, Jade Quang Huynh, 2015-11-04 On April 30 1975 the Hanoi government of North Vietnam took control over the South South Vietnamese particularly intellectuals and those thought to have been associated with the previous regime underwent terrible punishment persecution and re education Seeking their freedom thousands of South Vietnamese took to the sea in rickety boats often with few supplies and faced the dangers of nature pirates and starvation While the sea and its danger claimed many lives those who made it to the refugee camps still faced struggle and hardships in their quest for freedom Here are collected the narratives of nineteen men and women who survived the ordeal of escape by sea Today they live in the United States as students professors entrepreneurs scientists and craftspeople who have chosen to tell the stories of their struggles and their triumph Each narrative is accompanied by biographical information Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Contemporary Chinese Fiction Writers Laifong Leung,2016-07-28 In the years since the death of Mao Zedong interest in Chinese writers and Chinese literature has risen significantly in the West In 2000 Gao Xingjian became the first Chinese writer to receive the Nobel Prize for Literature followed by Mo Yan in 2012 and writers such as Ha Jin and Da Sijie have also become well known in the West Despite this progress the vast majority of Chinese writers remain largely unknown outside of China This book introduces the lives and works of eighty contemporary Chinese writers and focuses on writers from the Rightist generation Bai Hua Gao Xiaosheng Liu Shaotang writers of the Red Guard generation Li Rui Wang Anyi Post Cultural Revolution Writers as well as others Unlike earlier works it provides detailed often first hand biographical information on this wide range of writers including their career trajectories major themes and artistic characteristics In addition to this each entry includes a critical presentation and evaluation of the writer s major works a selected bibliography of publications that includes works in Chinese works translated into English and critical articles and books available in English Offering a valuable contribution to the field of contemporary Chinese literature by making detailed information about Chinese writers more accessible this book will be of interest to students and scholars Chinese Literature Contemporary Literature and Chinese Studies

Visions of Dystopia in China's New Historical Novels Jeffrey C. Kinkley,2014-11-18 The depiction of personal and collective suffering in modern Chinese novels differs significantly from standard Communist accounts and many Eastern and Western historical narratives Writers such as Yu Hua Su Tong Wang Anyi Mo Yan Han Shaogong Ge Fei Li Rui and Zhang Wei skew and scramble common conceptions of China s modern development deploying avant garde narrative techniques from Latin American and Euro American modernism to project a surprisingly un Chinese dystopian vision and critical view of human culture and ethics The epic narratives of modern Chinese fiction make rich use of magical realism surrealism and unusual treatments of historical time Also featuring graphic depictions of sex and violence as well as dark raunchy comedy these novels reflect China s recent history re presenting the overthrow of the monarchy in the early twentieth century and the resulting chaos of revolution and war the recurring miseries perpetrated by class warfare during the dictatorship of Mao Zedong and the social dislocations caused by China s industrialization and rise as a global power This book casts China s highbrow historical novels from the late 1980s to the first decade of the twenty first century as a distinctively Chinese contribution to the form of the global dystopian novel and consequently to global thinking about the interrelations of utopia and dystopia
