Body Politics Disease Desire And The Family:

Body Politics Michael Ryan, 2019-03-08 This book looks at the physical and metaphorical attributes of the human body as a site of contention politics and cultural protest It discusses a range of issues from torture and moral panics to the AIDS plague and the homosocial subtexts of George Bush s political speeches

Body Politics Michael L Ryan, Avery Gordon, 1994-01-04

Cultural Conceptions Valerie Hartouni, 1997 Examines the meaning of life in an era of emerging biotechnology What happens to prevailing beliefs about the uniqueness of individual life when life can be cloned Or to traditional understandings of family relationships when a child can have up to five parents These are some of the questions addressed by Valerie Hartouni in her consideration of the cultural effects of new reproductive technologies as reflected in video images popular journalism scientific debates legal briefs and policy decisions In Cultural Conceptions Hartouni tracks the circulation and communication of various myths images and stories pertaining to new reproductive technologies and their effects both imagined and real during the past two decades While addressing topics ranging from surrogacy and cloning to adoption ultrasound imaging and abortion Hartouni looks to American popular culture for clues to what these new and not so new reproductive practices tell us about issues of personhood Hartouni investigates the emergence of new anxieties about the nature of selfhood as well as the recurrence of age old myths regarding individuality sexuality property and family She argues that both are being played out in cultural contests over the meaning and organization of women s reproductive capacity In her discussion of provocative issues such as The Bell Curve controversy and the Baby M case Hartouni traces the dialectic of crisis and containment unleashed by reproductive technologies Ultimately however Cultural Conceptions argues that the anxieties that surround new reproductive technologies provide openings for alternative understandings and practices of life to emerge and challenge those currently in place A thoughtful daring and original look at this complex set of issues Cultural Conceptions provides an much needed guide to our nation s psyche as we approach the new millennium

Conspiracy Culture Dr Peter Knight, Peter Knight, 2013-04-15 Conspiracy theories are everywhere in post war American culture From postmodern novels to The X Files and from gangsta rap to feminist polemic there is a widespread suspicion that sinister forces are conspiring to take control of our national destiny our minds and even our bodies Conspiracy explanations can no longer be dismissed as the paranoid delusions of far right crackpots Indeed they have become a necessary response to a risky and increasingly globalized world in which everything is connected but nothing adds up Peter Knight provides an engaging and cogent analysis of the development of conspiracy culture from 1960s countercultural suspicions about the authorities to the 1990s where a paranoid attitude is both routine and ironic Conspiracy Culture analyses conspiracy narratives about familiar topics like the Kennedy assassination alien abduction body horror AIDS crack cocaine the New World Order as well as more unusual ones like the conspiracies of patriarchy and white supremacy Conspiracy Culture shows how Americans have come to distrust not only the narratives of the authorities but even the authority of narrative itself to explain What Is Really Going On From the complexities of Thomas Pynchon s novels to the endless mysteries of The X Files Knight argues that contemporary conspiracy culture is marked by an infinite regress of suspicion Trust no one because we have met the enemy and it is us

Body and Organization John Hassard,Ruth Holliday,Hugh Willmott,2000-06-06 This text enlivens the study of the organization by shifting the emphasis to examine how social practices are embodied The contributors offer an alternative framework for understanding the interplay between individuals institutions and work

Al-Anon Narratives Grazyna Zajdow,2002-08-30 According to the author in Australia men drink alcohol as a mark of masculinity and women take care of drinking men as a part of normative femininity And while research on alcoholics and alcoholism is common very few studies consider the lives of the women who are married to alcoholics Here Zajdow details and explores the lives of such women who belong to Al Anon where they may share their experiences and offer their stories in a nonthreatening and supportive environment The author presents the narratives of these women in the context of her analysis of the self help group to demonstrate how people construct and reconstruct their lives as coherent stories about themselves and to show how these self stories can be changed and reconceptualized within the context of the group Unique in its examination of self stories offered within a self help group this book challenges sociological knowledge about the way these mutual aid groups operate as communities of interest and help Zajdow begins by laying the groundwork through a discussion of the professional and lay discourses on women s relationships to alcoholic men She then provides the basis for using self stories to examine a group of people the individuals in the group and the behavior of the group in general A history of Al Anon as a self help group is also detailed and the author compares the Australian meetings to meetings in other parts of the world The stories themselves are then examined and discussed in terms of how they relate to group processes and individual change through Al Anon Tracing the way that these women move from a place of despair to one of hope and meaningful change this also represents a sociological exploration of gender families and communities

Identities in Transition Paige Arthur,2010-12-13 In many societies histories of exclusion racism and nationalist violence often create divisions so deep that finding a way to deal with the atrocities of the past seems nearly impossible These societies face difficult practical questions about how to devise new state and civil society institutions that will respond to massive or systematic violations of human rights recognize victims and prevent the recurrence of abuse

Identities in Transition Challenges for Transitional Justice in Divided Societies brings together a rich group of international researchers and practitioners who for the first time examine transitional justice through an identity lens They tackle ways that transitional justice can act as a means of political learning across communities foster citizenship trust and recognition and break down harmful myths and stereotypes as steps toward meeting the difficult challenges for transitional justice in divided societies

The Balkans in Focus Sanimir Resic, Barbara Törnquist Plewa, 2002 Discussing the complex weave of cultural links and the different religious and linguistic groups that have been living side by side in the Balkans for centuries this anthropological study is the result of a project initiated to create a network of scholars from Scandinavia and the Yugoslav successor states devoted to the study of post Yugoslav cultural and political developments Nine papers on problems of cultural boundaries are presented with the idea of countering the picture of the Balkans as a huge borderland where irresolvable age old ethnic and religious rivalries will inevitably cause conflict as informed by stereotypes and oversimplifications Topics include the historical crossing of religious borderlines the legitimizing efforts of elites to create national identities struggles to declare ownership over the origins of a particular musical instrument and similar topics

Remembering School Erica Southgate, 2003 What do people remember about their school experience What do the memories of generations of ex students have in common What do these memories tell us about the power relations and emotions produced by the institution of school What effect does school have on the formation of the self Remembering School uses a unique theoretical and methodological framework constructed from the theories of Michel Foucault and post structural feminism to explore the collective memory of school This book draws on a wide range of stories to explore memories of punishment bullying gender and race relations and pleasure Erica Southgate uses a clear often witty writing style to provide a provocative account of the enduring power relations of schooling and their lasting impact on people

Reading The Shape Of The World Henry Schwarz, 1996-05-23 This collection extends the boundaries of cultural studies beyond its current Euro American emphasis It takes readers on a wide ranging journey from the stock market to Islamic law from the African household to the Soviet apartment from the nuances of nationalism to the rude noises of capitalistic rhetoric introducing readers to the social and historical forces that shape textual practice The essays are richly imaginative and empirically detailed ingeniously connecting regional debates and local dynamics to universal global issues

Finally Reading The Shape of the World reconfigures cultural studies theories and methodologies resulting in a fresh and empowering approach to this dynamic field of inquiry At the heart of this study is the optimistic belief that reading still matters that the world can be shaped by reading and that critical practices of reading can transform the contours of social life Affective Rhetoric Kristin Anne Swenson,2006
