Separate But Equal? Tony Edwards, Carol Fitz-Gibbon, Frank Hardman, Roy Haywood, Nick Meagher, 2005-08-19 This book looks in detail at the strong contrasts in the provision traditionally made for academically and vocationally minded students and looks at differences and similarities in practice The chapters report evidence of how students on both sides think they have been taught They also report on how those students prefer to learn how their teachers define the kinds of learning appropriate for particular qualifications and how the organisation of learning for different but equal qualifications was observed in forty schools and colleges The book's main focus is on the objectives and processes of learning at a stage which is certainly being transformed but which is still powerfully shaped by myths about the sixth form and education of leaders

Progression to Higher Education from Advanced GNVQ Business Elaine Shirtliff, 1996-01-01

GNVQ Advanced Business Stephen Danks, 1995-06-29 The text of this book provides a comprehensive text for Business Studies courses in schools and colleges It has been specifically written for students taking Advanced GNVQ in Business mandatory units and completely revised to meet the 1995 specification The book has been written in a structured form with numbered paragraphs summaries self review questions and many different assessment means It is organised by the eight GNVQ mandatory units Each chapter contains the following question types student centred tasks review questions and assignments There are also seven GNVQ style question papers and answers in the Lecturer's supplement available separately which cover the mandatory units These can be photocopied and used for
