Business Institutions and Behaviour in Australia David Merrett, 2013-10-18 This study of Australian business institutions and practices places the rise of big business in Australia in a comparative context through a study of its 100 largest firms in the first six and a half decades of the 20th century Unlike many of the wealthy economies of the northern hemisphere Australia's lists of the 100 largest firms were dominated up to World War II by those from the resource and service industries The high levels of foreign direct investment in the resources and manufacturing industries is also highlighted Other chapters employ 21st century theories of the firm to explore business behaviour in more depth Business Institutions and Behaviour in Australia David Merrett, 2000 This study of Australian business institutions and practices places the rise of big business in Australia in a comparative context through a study of its 100 largest firms in the first six and a half decades of the 20th century Unlike many of the wealthy economies of the northern hemisphere Australia's lists of the 100 largest firms were dominated up to World War II by those from the resource and service industries The high levels of foreign direct investment in the resources and manufacturing industries is also highlighted Other chapters employ 21st century theories of the firm to explore business behaviour in more depth BUSINESS HORIZONS, 2001 The Big End of Town Grant Fleming, David Merrett, Simon Ville, 2004-05-24 Never before had a book been published which provides such a comprehensive study of Australian corporate leadership over the past 100 years Written by a team of economic historians The Big End of Town first published in 2004 is a proper business history of twentieth century Australia This book traces the evolution of large business enterprises in Australia from the giants of the nineteenth century such as Dalgety's CSR and BHP to the contemporary leaders in NewsCorp and Qantas It delves into why the market leaders became the major players examines what was crucial to their success and their roles in leading the Australian economy By investigating their evolution this book provides a useful evaluation of the factors that have led to their competitive success and provides an essential guide for all businesses in Australia and beyond Banking supervision and regulation Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Select Committee on Economic Affairs, 2009-06-02 2007 and 2008 saw the biggest financial crisis since the 1930s Banks looking for better yields from plentiful cheap money made much more use of complex financial instruments without fully understanding the risks to which they were exposing themselves and the financial system Defaults on subprime mortgages underlying some of the instruments shattered confidence and financial markets seized up The framework of regulation and supervision in Britain failed to avoid or mitigate the crisis The tripartite authorities in the United Kingdom Bank of England Financial Services Authority FSA and Treasury failed to maintain financial stability and were found wanting in part because the roles of the three parties were not well enough defined and it was not clear who was in charge Too little attention was paid to macro prudential supervision oversight of the aggregate impact on financial stability of individual banks actions only the Bank of England and the FSA were in a position to assess it The FSA concentrated on its responsibility for conduct of business supervision concerned mainly with consumer protection and did not pay full attention to the solvency and sustainability of individual banks It also had an inadequate understanding of the complexity and limitations of the risk assessment models used by the banks it was supervising The Banking Act 2009 showed the Government had learnt the lesson that special resolution provisions are needed for banks since their failure can threaten the whole financial system The Committee calls on the Government urgently to revisit the tripartite supervisory system in the United Kingdom and it should return responsibility for macro prudential supervision to the Bank of England Other recommendations cover bank capital regulation ratings agencies and bank governance
