The Business of Genocide Michael Thad Allen, 2002 Examines the Business Administration Main Office of the SS which built up the slave labor system in Nazi concentration camps Business in Genocide Nora Stel, 2016 Genocides and mass atrocities do not arise spontaneously but tend to be meticulously sourced and managed As such the concern in this paper is with the role of businesses in these processes with a particular focus on the agency and decision making of entrepreneurs and managers We critically explore the specific role entrepreneurs and businesses played in three of the most uncontested genocides of recent history the Jewish Kurdish and Darfurian genocides From this literature we seek to distill key insights into what entrepreneurs and socially responsible businesses can do to lessen the tensions misunderstandings exclusions and marginalization that are among the complex causes of genocides and other mass atrocities In order to better understand the complicity of business there is a need for a shift from diagnostic attention on how businesses are engaged in genocide to a more analytical exploration of why businesses have made the choices they did in the process of their engagement with genocide This is also necessary to advance the debate on how to hold businesses accountable for gross human rights violations and moreover to provide incentives for businesses not only to avoid doing harm but also to proactively preventively strive to protect and extend human rights Rwanda Investment and Business Guide Volume 1 Strategic and Practical Information IBP USA, 2013-08 Rwanda Investment and Business Guide Strategic and Practical Information We Charge Genocide Civil Rights Congress (U.S.), 1952 California.
