battle heroism the world loses sight of the mechanics of war It is more thrilling to have an emotion about a forlorn trench hope led to victory than to hear about a supply column that reached the front under a storm of shells Yet the courage of the teamsters who face death with only the reins in their hands is fit to rank with the valour of the fighting men armed with guns War has become a business It is the world s supreme task at this moment Business as usual has gone into the scrap heap along with many other illusions that clogged effort and begot a costly optimism in the early days of the conflict The one definite work of civilization is to win the war The path to victory is through organization No military establishment presents such a picture of close knit endeavour as the British Army The immortal First Seven Divisions who dashed to the relief of Belgium and laid the first Anglo Saxon sacrifice on the Altar of Freedom were the nucleus of the mighty host on which the sun never sets to day About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Agricultural Business ,1930 The Household Encyclopaedia of Business and Social Forms Embracing the Laws of Etiquette and Good Society ... James D. Leppanen,2000-12 Business and warfare have more in common than most people think The Art of Business Warfare applies military techniques to the business world It outlines how businesses can use the military principles preemption dislocation and disruption to outmaneuver their competition In addition before conducting an operation the military has four primary areas it must address personnel intelligence operations and logistics Companies must also manage these four areas While The Art of Business Warfare won t show you how to call in artillery fire on your competition it will show you how to coordinate your business departments and improve your business operations
