Rockefeller, Man has always been a nomad a restless spirit or a free spirited species In very early times we moved from place to place from continent to continent tracking the stars crossing huge rivers and following the seasons in our efforts to survive Before the advent of modern civilization as we know it it was common for man to travel great swathes of lands and territories But they didn t remain like that forever the free spirited nomadic men they began to change their orientation They began to try to find ways to stay in a place longer than usual They had an urge to own lands to build a connection to the lands There was a plea for stability and so any semblance to a regular life one that does not involve old moving habits is embraced by us We continue to bury our nomadic essence deeper into our core We spend a lot of our time energy and money paying for a lot of things in our possession already The all too popular culture of getting it now and paying later has been a resonant motto for most men This exemplifies the way we see the world and our current approach to survival This speaks to the state of our complacency and our inability to remove ourselves from our self inflicted burdens of excruciating debts and our monotonous 9 5 daily obligations But not everyone wants to live this way and some of us cannot bear to remain in this endless loop There is the urgent need to break free of what seems a very strong shackle They want to live their lives according to the dictates of their passion allowing their inner nomad self outside It is about having a newfound freedom working with no boundaries or borders The ability to finally live and work from any workstation in the world It is called being a digital nomad
