Boarding House Blues:

Boardinghouse Women Elizabeth S. D. Engelhardt, 2023-11-14 In this innovative and insightful book Elizabeth Engelhardt argues that modern American food business caretaking politics sex travel writing and restaurants all owe a debt to boardinghouse women in the South From the eighteenth century well into the twentieth entrepreneurial women ran boardinghouses throughout the South some also carried the institution to far flung places like California New York and London Owned and operated by Black Jewish Native American and white women rich and poor immigrant and native born these lodgings were often hubs of business innovation and engines of financial independence for their owners Within their walls boardinghouse residents and owners developed the region's earliest printed cookbooks created space for making music and writing literary works formed ad hoc communities of support tested boundaries of race and sexuality and more Engelhardt draws on a vast archive to recover boardinghouse women's stories revealing what happened in the kitchens bedrooms hallways back stairs and front porches as well as behind closed doors legacies still with us today Boarding Out David Faflik, 2012-09-30 Driven by intensive industrialization and urbanization the nineteenth century saw radical transformations in every facet of life in the United States Immigrants and rural Americans poured into the nation's cities often ahead of or without their families As city dwellers adapted to the new metropolis boarding out became for a few short decades the most popular form of urban domesticity in the United States While boarding's historical importance is indisputable its role in the period's literary production has been overlooked In Boarding Out David Faflik argues that the urban American boardinghouse exerted a decisive shaping power on the period's writers and writings Addressing the works of canonical authors such as Henry David Thoreau Nathaniel Hawthorne and Oliver Wendell Holmes as well as neglected popular writers of the era such as Fanny Fern and George Lippard Faflik demonstrates that boarding was at once psychically artistically and materially central in the making of our shared American culture Boarding House Blues Floyd Pearson, 1924 Country Music Records Tony Russell, Bob Pinson, Country Music Hall of Fame & Museum (Nashville, Tenn.), 2004-10-07 More than twenty years in the making Country Music Records documents all country music recording sessions from 1921 through 1942 With primary research based on files and session logs from record companies interviews with surviving musicians as well as the 200 000 recordings archived at the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum's Frist Library and Archives this notable work is the first compendium to accurately report the key details behind all the recording sessions of country music during the pre World War II era This discography documents in alphabetical order by artist every commercial country music recording including unreleased sides and indicates as completely as possible the musicians playing at every session as well as instrumentation This massive undertaking encompasses 2 500 artists 5 000 session musicians and 10 000 songs Summary histories of each key record company are also provided along with a bibliography The discography includes indexes to all song titles and musicians listed Munsey's Magazine, 1928 The American Flint
