By Shore & Sedge Bret Harte,2001-04-01 By Shore and Sedge Bret Harte,2009-02-01 After a long night of consoling the widow of another preacher Gideon found himself a place to sleep in the straw of the barn when two strangers came asking for a preacher any preacher at all So Gideon went with them After talking with the dying man and keeping him company until he lapsed back into unconsciousness Gideon wondered what he should do Of course the dying man had spoken his last wish and maybe that wish had little to do with the Good Lord s work Or maybe it had everything to do with the work that he Gideon had to do So he turned then to the one whose name was Mr Hamlin and asked Do you know Kate Somers Can you send for her right away Why ain t this playing it a little too low down said Mr Hamlin She she s got no character But Gideon knew what he was about In By Shore and Sedge and three other stories of the far West Bret Harte 1836 1902 tells of the hopeful souls convinced of the glories to be won in the Gold country and of the hardened ones who must struggle to raise themselves above the desperate and toilsome life of the pioneer
