SOUTO P.,2026-01-28 You were likely told there was a correct way to live your life study diligently gain admission to a respected university secure a stable job then buy a home and start a family A clear linear progression A promise quietly passed down Yet those who offered this advice to Generation Z failed to recognize that the world had shifted The financial system shifted with it The rules were rewritten and no one thought to warn us Many grew up believing that if they did everything right a bright future would follow They competed for college placements endured crowded commutes accepted unpaid internships studied late into the night and worked relentlessly all in pursuit of a job that was supposed to resolve everything else Instead they encountered a different reality Wages stagnated Jobs became unstable Employers demanded years of experience from those just beginning their careers The idea of having children once assumed to be a natural next step quietly receded Not because this generation lacks the desire but because dreams now collide with financial precarity How does one offer stability when survival itself feels uncertain How does one bring another life into the world without first gaining control over one's own Homeownership followed a similar fate Across much of the world interest rates surged to punishing levels The dream of holding the keys to a first apartment of shaping a space into something personal and permanent dissolved into something distant and for many unattainable The market was not built to support Generation Z as it attempts to establish financial independence It was built to reward investors from the generation before them In the end Generation Z followed the path it was told was right only to find closed doors waiting at its conclusion If the world has changed then clinging to outdated maps serves no purpose It is time to reconsider the strategy It is time to begin again
