Current Topics In Experimental Endocrinology Volume 3:

Current Topics in Experimental Endocrinology L. Martini, V. H. T. James, 2013-10-22 Current Topics in Experimental Endocrinology Volume 3 covers the relationship between the endocrine system and some types of tumors. The book discusses the perspectives, pitfalls, and potentials of tissue culture in endocrine research, the tumor types associated with ectopic adrenocorticotropin hormone secretion, particularly nonendocrine tumors, and the hormonal control of breast cancer growth in women and rats. The text also describes the status of steroid receptors in breast tumors, the physiopathological aspects of prolactin secretion in patients with pituitary tumors, and the biochemical endocrinology of prostatic tumors. The ectopic production of human chorionic gonadotropin and its alpha and beta subunits is also considered. Endocrinologists, oncologists, chemists, gynecologists, and students taking related courses will find the book invaluable.

Reproductive Processes and Contraception Kenneth W. McKerns, 2013-03-13 This monograph represents the eighth sponsored by the International Society for Biochemical Endocrinology. The topics should be of interest to basic research scientists, medical practitioners, and students of reproductive biology. It complements our monograph published in 1979 on Structure and Function of the Gonadotropins. The monograph is organized in ten topic areas relative to the general theme of reproduction and contraception. There are several chapters in each area. Obviously, all aspects of each area could not be covered. An attempt was made to seek interesting basic research ideas and concepts that might in the future be applicable to fertility regulation. The topics are interactions in gonadotropin regulation, GnRH analogues as contraceptive agents, receptors in cellular localization of hormones, uterine and mammary receptors, germ cell regulation, and secretory proteins, control mechanisms, and metabolic regulations, hCG peptides, and anti sera as antifertility agents, iEutization, oocyte maturation, and early pregnancy, steroids, and cell growth, and finally prostaglandins and cell function. The studies encompass many disciplines and techniques in anatomy, physiology, biochemistry, and endocrinology in animals and humans, both in vitro and in vivo. A conference of contributors was held in Maine at the Asticou Inn in Northeast Harbor during the week of September 9-13, 1979. The chapters, as written for the monograph, were presented for discussion by the participants who were selected for their knowledge of and contributions to this area of scientific investigation.

Amino Acids, Peptides and Proteins R C Sheppard, 2007-10-31 Specialist Periodical Reports provide systematic and detailed review coverage of progress in the major areas of chemical research. Written by experts in their specialist fields, the series creates a unique service for the active research chemist, supplying regular, critical, in-depth accounts of progress in particular areas of chemistry. For over 80 years the Royal Society of Chemistry and its predecessor the Chemical Society have been publishing reports charting developments in chemistry which originally took the form of Annual Reports However by 1967 the whole spectrum of chemistry could no longer be contained within one volume and the series Specialist Periodical Reports was born The Annual Reports themselves still existed but were divided into two and subsequently three volumes covering Inorganic Organic and Physical Chemistry For more general coverage of the highlights in chemistry they remain a must Since that time the SPR series has altered according to the fluctuating degree of activity in various fields of chemistry Some titles have remained unchanged while others have altered their emphasis along with their titles some have been combined under a new name whereas others have had to be discontinued The current list of Specialist Periodical Reports can be seen on the inside flap of this volume
