Belated Regrets:

Negotiating Masculinities in Late Imperial China Martin W. Huang, 2006-01-01 Why did traditional Chinese literati so often identify themselves with women in their writing What can this tell us about how they viewed themselves as men and how they understood masculinity How did their attitudes in turn shape the martial heroes and other masculine models they constructed Martin Huang attempts to answer these questions in this valuable work on manhood in late imperial China He focuses on the ambivalent and often paradoxical role played by women and the feminine in the intricate negotiating process of male gender identity in late imperial cultural discourses Two common strategies for constructing and negotiating masculinity were adopted in many of the works examined here The first what Huang calls the strategy of analogy constructs masculinity in close association with the feminine the second the strategy of differentiation defines it in sharp contrast to the feminine In both cases women bear the burden as the defining other In this study feminine is a rather broad concept denoting a wide range of gender phenomena associated with women from the politically and socially destabilizing to the exemplary wives and daughters celebrated in Confucian chastity discourse

Sticky Stingers Norm Thabit, 2005-11 All of her life people have given Leezel strange stares Her name is odd Her family is odd Her power is odd But her life at the White Guild Hall is worse for Leezel has an enemy there the Guild Master herself Everyone expected her to develop a Grader's Sight but that wasn't the gift she was endowed with She got Empathy and it didn't improve her life The Masters that should have been training her in Healing pushed at her to learn her Empathy instead So Leezel Master apprentice Healer and Empath was hopeful and even prepared for a new life if only because it would mean leaving this one But there are some things for which you can never fully prepare Leezel is suddenly mated to the most powerful man ever known living in a tree in a valley full of HornCats Master apprentice Leezel the young woman that would become The Lady Leezel will need every gift she has
