Crossovers Poems:

Crossovers Thomas Reiter, 1995-01-01 As they provide us with various versions of a history of their place these poems resound with the rumble of boxcars the slap of the river currents against the steel hulls of barges the clatter of cicadas above the whisper of bluestem grass the quiet voices of grandfather father and son across the generations and their dialogues with grandmother mother daughter Here from the graves and ashes of the sodbusters riverboat crews and railroadmen who populated these vast midland spaces their themes of angry disillusion terror in the face of overpowering elemental forces and ironic resignation to tragic destiny come to us in language as unmistakable as smoke or dust on the ineluctable prairie wind The forms of Thomas Reiter's poems their rhythms and language deliver an unerring sense of history's inevitabilities asking us to witness the bleak lives of the family captured on the photographer's plate in 1874 and the pensioned railroad carpenter's fate and the peripeteia of the class bully first of us to die Every version of Thomas Reiter's Midwest history social natural economic personal derives its authority from the extraordinary wealth of sharply observed sensuous detailed imagery which alerts even the casual reader to the significance of what these various voices given a choral unity by the poet's art are saying to us

Crossover Queries Edith Wyschogrod, 2006 Drawing together pieces from over twenty years that reflect her penetrating thought Crossover Queries presents for the first time in a single volume the astonishing range of a major philosopher To explore the risks ambiguities and unstable conceptual situations of contemporary thought it takes modes of negation especially the negation intrinsic to the ethical as its central thread Ranging from twentieth century European philosophy to traditional Jewish thought from analyses of dance music and novels to the question of the name of God from the phenomenology of the body to recent biological research its profoundly learned and humanely engaged discussions remain always mindful that even as philosophy crosses over into new spaces of thought the philosopher remains standing within and responsible a historical legacy one conditioned by the negative

Crossover Fiction Sandra L. Beckett, 2010-11-24 In Crossover Fiction Sandra L. Beckett explores the global trend of crossover literature and explains how it is transforming literary canons concepts of readership the status of authors the publishing industry and bookselling practices This study will have significant relevance across disciplines as scholars in literary studies media and cultural studies visual arts education psychology and sociology examine the increasingly blurred borderlines between adults and young people in contemporary society notably with regard to their consumption of popular culture

The Poetry of Raymond Carver Professor Sandra Lee Kleppe, 2014-04-28 Best known as one of the great short story writers of the twentieth century Raymond Carver also published several volumes of poetry and considered himself as much a poet as a fiction writer Sandra Lee Kleppe combines comparative analysis with an in depth examination of Carver s poems making a case for the quality of Carver s poetic output and showing the central role Carver s pursuit of poetry played in his career as a writer Carver constructed his own organic literary system of autopoetics a concept connected to a paradigm shift in our understanding of the inter relatedness of biological and cultural systems This idea is seen as informing Carver s entire production and a distinguishing feature of Kleppe s book is its contextualization of Carver s poetry within the complex literary and scientific systems that influenced his development as a writer Kleppe addresses the common themes and intertextual links between Carver s poetry and short story careers situates Carver s poetry within the love poem tradition explores the connections between neurology and poetic memories and examines Carver s use of the elegy genre within the context of his terminal illness Tellingly Carver s poetry which has aroused slight interest among literary scholars is frequently taught to medical students This testimony to the interdisciplinary implications of Carver s work suggests the appropriateness of Kleppe s culminating discussion of Carver s work as a bridge between the fields of literature and medicine

Medieval Crossover Barbara Newman,2013-05-15 The sacred and the secular in medieval literature have too often been perceived as opposites or else relegated to separate but unequal spheres In Medieval Crossover Reading the Secular against the Sacred Barbara Newman offers a new approach to the many ways that sacred and secular interact in medieval literature arguing that in contrast to our own cultural situation the sacred was the normative unmarked default category against which the secular always had to define itself and establish its niche Newman refers to this dialectical relationship as crossover which is not a genre in itself but a mode of interaction an openness to the meeting or even merger of sacred and secular in a wide variety of forms Newman sketches a few of the principles that shape their interaction the hermeneutics of both and the principle of double judgment the confluence of pagan material and Christian meaning in Arthurian romance the rule of convergent idealism in hagiographic romance and the double edged sword in parody Medieval Crossover explores a wealth of case studies in French English and Latin texts that concentrate on instances of paradox collision and convergence Newman convincingly and with great clarity demonstrates the widespread applicability of the crossover concept as an analytical tool examining some very disparate works These include French and English romances about Lancelot and the Grail the mystical writing of Marguerite Porete placed in the context of lay spirituality lyric traditions and the Romance of the Rose multiple examples of parody sexually obscene shockingly anti Semitic or cleverly litigious and Ren of Anjou s two allegorical dream visions Some of these texts are scarcely known to medievalists others are rarely studied together Newman s originality in her choice of these primary works will inspire new questions and set in motion new fields of exploration for medievalists working in a large variety of disciplines including literature religious studies history and cultural studies 45 Contemporary Poems Alberta T.
