Convention,2000      Lifelong Learning Discourses in Europe Carolyn Medel-Añonuevo,2003      Handbook of Online Learning Kjell Erik Rudestam,Judith Schoenholtz-Read,2002-02-19 I found the book excellent and read every one of the 450 pages Many of the chapters reflect the Fielding Institute s focus on human and organizational behaviour educational leadership and organizational management The book will be particularly appropriate for readers from a corporate training or business school background though there is much for academics and online educators at all levels and subject areas to learn from this well crafted book There are many books and articles about online learning This is one of the better ones Robin Mason Computers and Education Technology mediated instruction has taken the university and the corporate sector by storm As more instructors teach online for a dispersed learning community in both academic and business environments there s a need for resources that will help them adapt to this new teaching method

Educators who come out of traditional academic institutions tend to use traditional methods when offering courses online e.g lectures textbooks and readings examinations rather than attend to small group processes and principles of what the editors of this volume call andragogy This Handbook goes beyond the mechanics of how to create and direct an online learning experience to consider such a new approach to pedagogy in doing so The editors primary purpose is to clarify the conceptual issues that underlie effective online teaching and to offer practical guidance to educators and corporate trainers who plan to teach in a virtual environment Their central tenet is the adoption of computer networks as the teaching vehicle of the future demands a re examination of our core beliefs about pedagogy and how students learn The transfer of a classroom curriculum into cyberspace is deceptively simple but doing so without an appreciation of the nuances and implications of learning online ignores not only the potential of this medium but the inevitable realities of entering it Rather than fear the challenges that new technology brings to systems of learning the editors hope to help instructors embrace it by re thinking how knowledge is acquired and how educational processes may be optimally designed in a new age of teaching and learning Features Benefits Part I provides an overview and includes discussion of the unique structural aspects of the electronic learning environment pedagogical issues curriculum design psychological and group dynamics and ethical issues Part II examines practical issues associated with implementing courses online both in the traditional university setting and in professional corporate training environments The book draws heavily on personal case examples many from The Fielding Graduate Institute s 26 years of teaching in nontraditional distributed learning environments

Promoting Lifelong Learning for Older Workers Tarja Tikkanen,2006 This publication contains a number of essays which explore issues relating to population ageing and the needs of older workers from a lifelong learning perspective Although the focus is on European experiences it also includes contributions from Australia Japan and the United States The central argument of this book is that ageing must be seen as a lifelong learning and development process in which one continuously takes on new life challenges and in the context of work lifelong learning is understood as a broad holistic concept which encompasses individual education and training as well as participative workplace learning actively supported by employers of UNESCO the American Association for Adult and Continuing Education the Socrates Program of the European Commission and the UNESCO Institute for Education looked forward to the unique opportunity of bringing together such a range of stakeholders not only for exchanging experiences but more important to collectively reflect and analyse the implications for policy and educational practices of such discourses and experiences Learning Throughout Life Unesco,2002 The International Commission on Education for the Twenty first Century under the chairmanship of Jacques Delors published in 1996 its report entitled Learning The Treasure Within Widely debated within the educational community and in political circles the report revolved around the central theme of learning throughout life stressing the importance of formal and non formal lifelong education in a rapidly changing world This book intended for educational planners and policy makers brings together the main issues discussed at the follow up conference on learning throughout life held in Lisbon in 1999 Although it is acknowledged that learning throughout life is a crucial issue in most countries this book shows that there is still a long way to go before it becomes a reality The place of formal and non formal education is still to be clearly defined and there is an urgent need for the creation of educational structures with a global approach to lifelong education that take into consideration the multiple aspects influencing both teaching and learning at this time of dramatic worldwide economic and societal change Facing Up to the Learning Organization Challenge Barry Nyhan,2003 This first volume of a two volume publication provides an analytical overview of main questions emerging from recent European research and development projects related to the learning organization Chapter 1 provides context for the European learning organization challenge and presents four main messages arising from the learning organization project Chapter 2 proposes the European social model as providing a societal value framework that can give meaning to the learning organization concept from a European perspective Chapters 3 4 identify main points emerging from the individual papers that formed the impetus for the learning organization project and attempt to discuss the issues raised against the background of an organizational learning interpretative framework Chapter 3 argues that building learning organizations is not so much a process of applying a theory to practice but rather a constructivist process of building a practice based on shared meaning arrived at through a collective deliberation and sense making process Chapter 4 stresses the need to focus on the organization in all its complexity as a holistic and organic working and learning system Chapter 5 argues organizations can only be sustained in a form of cooperative competition with other organizations and institutions representing different interest groups in society Appendixes include 155 references and Volume II chapter summaries YLB Bulletin of the Medical Library Association Medical Library Association,1997 Training and Learning for Competence Pascaline Descy,Manfred Tessaring,2002
