Difference And Identity A Theological Anthropology:

Difference & Identity Ian Alexander McFarland, 2001 Ian A McFarland uses Jesus to overcome the block of acknowledging those who are considered different from ourselves and explores the premise that knowing what we are as human beings is less important than the knowing who makes us what we are Reflecting on scripture and theological concepts McFarland explores the way in which Jesus Christ's personhood shapes our own and mediates our encounters with others Rather than suppressing human differences in order to provide a common denominator and affirm equality among persons this book explores the notion of difference as being fundamental to our identity as human beings Sacramental Identity T. Ryan Dillon, 2024-04-01 Who am I A theology of personal identity and an answer to that question should be integral to any theological anthropology For some the answer is found in what many have called expressive individualism an inward turn toward the self and who and what I feel is most authentic to that self Christians respond that we are no longer that person we are in Christ But do either of these answers truly respond to the realities of both storied and embodied persons living out a life over time and change or the demand for an answer of stability throughout that endless change Sacramental Identity seeks to answer these questions by grounding personal identity in Scripture history and a rich theology of the sacraments of the church In a time where many are skeptical of the church's care for the embodied and storied realities of human life the sacraments invite us into the story of Christ and the church to discover who we are

Original Sin and the Evolution of Sexual Difference Megan Loumagne Ulishney, 2022-11-03 Original Sin and the Evolution of Sexual Difference develops an interdisciplinary conversation between evolutionary biology feminist philosophy and theology in order to illuminate the entanglement of Christian thinking about original sin with theologies of sexual difference It then assesses the opportunities for rethinking original sin and its implications for theologies of sexual difference in light of developments in evolutionary biology and feminist theology and philosophy Despite some resistances in the present age to conceptions of both original sin and meaningful sexual differences this study argues that both can provide essential insights that help to make sense of some of the features of human life in the twenty first century especially the stubborn persistence of inequality poverty environmental degradation and the pernicious patterns of sexual violence and abuse that have been uncovered by the MeToo movement To this end Megan Loumagne Ulishney marshals resources from a variety of places Augustine of Hippo feminist theology the Extended Evolutionary Synthesis John Paul II and a new group of feminist philosophers known as the New Feminist Materialists to develop an analysis of original sin and sexual difference that is grounded in both scientific and theological insights about creaturely life The project cultivates a sense of wonder at the diversity and unpredictability of human biology a value for the role of creativity in the human participation that partially shapes our ongoing evolution and humility about the extent to which we can predict and control the future of the evolution of our species It illuminates the interdependencies that define creaturely life the persistent entanglement of nature and culture the centrality of desire to human identity and behaviour and the role played by biology in the transmission of sin It develops a vision of material life as evolving generative and imbued with activity but also as simultaneously infected with sin and saturated with the divine

Divine Flesh, Embodied Word Anne-Claire Mulder,2025-10-01 What has Luce Irigaray s statement that women need a God to do with her thoughts on the relation between body and mind or the sensible and the intelligible Using the theological notion incarnation as a hermeneutical key Anne Claire Mulder brings together and illuminates the interrelations between these different themes in Luce Irigaray s work Seesawing between Luce Irigaray s critique of philosophical discourse and her constructive philosophy Mulder elucidates Irigaray s thoughts on the relations between becoming woman and becoming divine She shows that Luce Irigaray s restaging of the relation between the sensible and the intelligible between flesh and Word is key to her reinterpretation of the relation between woman and God In and through her interpretation of Luce Irigaray s thoughts on the flesh she argues that the relation between flesh and Word must be seen as a dialectical one instead of as a dualistic relation This means that incarnation is no longer seen as a one way process of Word becoming flesh but as a continuing process of flesh becoming word and word becoming flesh For all images and thoughts including those of God are produced by the flesh divine in its creativity inexhaustibility in response to the touch of the other And these images thoughts words in turn become embodied by touching and moving the flesh of the subject

Anthropology in Theological Perspective Wolfhart Pannenberg,2004-08-23 In this comprehensive study a renowned theologian examines the anthropological disciplines human biology psychology cultural anthropology sociology and history for their religious implications The result is a theological anthropology that does not derive from dogma or prejudice but critically evaluates the findings of the disciplines Pannenberg begins with a consideration of human beings as part of nature moves on to focus on the human person and then considers the social world its culture history and institutions All the elements of this multi faceted study unite in the final chapter on the relation of human beings to their history

The Imago Dei as Human Identity Ryan S. Peterson,2016-01-28 Theologians and Old Testament scholars have been at odds with respect to the best interpretation of the imago Dei Theologians have preferred substantialistic e g image as soul or mind or relational interpretations e g image as relational personhood and Old Testament scholars have preferred functional interpretations e g image as kingly dominion The disagreements revolve around a number of exegetical questions How do we best read Genesis 1 in its literary historical and cultural contexts How should it be read theologically How should we read Genesis 1 as a canonical text This book charts a path through these disagreements by offering a dogmatically coherent and exegetically sound canonical interpretation of the image of God Peterson argues that the fundamental claim of Genesis 1:26-28 is that humanity is created to image God actively in the world Made in the image of God is an identity claim As such it tells us about humanity's relationship with God and the rest of creation what humanity does in the world and what humanity is to become Understanding the imago Dei as human identity has the further advantage of illuminating humanity's ontology Canonically knowledge of the contours and purpose of human existence develops alongside God's self-revelation Tracing this development Peterson demonstrates the coherence of the OT and NT texts that refer to the image of God In the NT Jesus Christ is understood as the realization of God's image in the world and therefore the fulfillment of the description of humanity's identity in Genesis 1 In addition to its specific focus on resolving interdisciplinary tensions for Christian interpretation of the imago Dei the argument of the book has important implications for ethics the doctrine of sin and the doctrine of revelation
