Digital Dreams Architecture And The New Alchemical Technologies:

Digital Dreams Neil Spiller, 1998 The Dissertation Iain Borden, 2006-08-14 The Dissertation is one of the most demanding yet potentially most stimulating components of an architectural course Properly done it can be a valuable contribution not only to the students own learning development but also to the field of architecture as a whole This book provides a complete guide to what to do how to do it when to do it and the major pitfalls involved This is a comprehensive guide to all that an architecture student might need to know about undertaking the dissertation including new material on CD ROM and online sources web based research techniques digital images alternative imaging strategies key architecture links referencing and new dissertation extracts It clearly navigates the student through the whole process of writing preparing and submitting a dissertation as well as suggesting what to do after the dissertation has been completed Subjects covered include how to write a proposal which research methodologies and techniques to adopt which libraries and archives to utilize including special architectural resources on the net as well as how to structure reference and illustrate the final submission The authors also take architecture students into new terrain suggesting alternative methods of undertaking dissertations whether as video prose writing multimedia or other forms of expression Furthermore this guide includes new examples of exemplary dissertations of all kinds as completed by students in Europe and North America so that the reader can clearly see the kinds of work which they themselves might choose to pursue Also in the Seriously Useful Guides Series The Crit The Portfolio Practical Experience Digital Dreams Neil Spiller, 1998 For serious future thinkers this book plots changes ahead in our spatial lexicon and speculates to conceive navigate and occupy previously unavailable technological defined landscapes The author posits that as explorations in cyberspace molecular and tissue engineering genetics and complex systems theories accelerate they will drastically change our environment and therefore our architecture When space is reevaluated the process will inevitably lead to a new articulation of architecture in terms of its use scale of operation and aesthetic content opening up exciting new spatial frontiers In examining the potential of coming technological innovation the book enables readers to see the interaction of such techniques and the architecture resulting from them Specifics addressed include algorithmic and hypertextual architectures spatial procedures in cyber space self replicating and artificially intelligent structures a new plasticity in buildings and other provocative issues Speculative Architectures after Minoritarian Futurisms Joel P.W. Letkemann, 2025-12-02 Speculative Architectures after Minoritarian Futurisms is a work of architectural theory which understands architecture as a practice of speculation analogous to science fiction While it might seem immediately obvious especially given the discipline s legacy of fantastical invention and commitment to the future this book argues that this hypothetical conjunction offers a highly sophisticated critical perspective on the discipline arguing that the only way to deal with the complex challenges of the present is through processes of speculation and ethical commitment to imagining futures evinced in minoritarian futurisms This book reads architecture from the perspective of the recent florescence of futurisms from Afro futurism to xeno feminism with an attention to how they produce a different image of architecture In understanding architecture as speculative practice the book also suggests understanding the architect by analogy to the author of science fiction Learning from queer and feminist perspectives this method of science fictioning refuses to take the terms now defining the discipline as totalising and immutable and investigates the unique subjectivities positions and responsibilities that might be imagined as the architect to come This book will be of interest to researchers and students of architectural theory science fiction studies design futures and global futurisms

World Architecture ,1998 Drawing Futures Bob Sheil,Frédéric Migayrou,Luke Pearson,Laura Allen,2016-11-11 Drawing Futures brings together international designers and artists for speculations in contemporary drawing for art and architecture Despite numerous developments in technological manufacture and computational design that provide new grounds for designers the act of drawing still plays a central role as a vehicle for speculation There is a rich and long history of drawing tied to innovations in technology as well as to revolutions in our philosophical understanding of the world In reflection of a society now underpinned by computational networks and interfaces allowing hitherto unprecedented views of the world the changing status of the drawing and its representation as a political act demands a platform for reflection and innovation Drawing Futures will present a compendium of projects writings and interviews that critically reassess the act of drawing and where its future may lie Drawing Futures focuses on the discussion of how the field of drawing may expand synchronously alongside technological and computational developments The book coincides with an international conference of the same name taking place at The Bartlett School of Architecture UCL in November 2016 Bringing together practitioners from many creative fields the book discusses how drawing is changing in relation to new technologies for the production and dissemination of ideas
