Dilemma Of Being Modern:

The Dilemma of Being Modern J.P. Hodin,1999 "Landscape, Art and Identity in 1950s Britain " Catherine Jolivet,2017-07-05 During the years following World War II debates about the British landscape fused with questions of national identity as the country reconstructed its sense of self For better or for worse artists statesmen and ordinary citizens saw themselves reflected in the landscape and in turn helped to shape the way that others envisioned the land While landscape art is frequently imagined in terms of painting this book examines the role of landscape in terms of a broader definition of visual culture to include the discussion not only of works of oil on canvas but also prints sculpture photography advertising fashion journalism artists biographies and the multi media stage of the national exhibition Making extensive use of archival materials newspaper reviews radio broadcasts interviews with artists letters and exhibition planning documents Catherine Jolivet explores the intersection of landscape art with a variety of discourses including the role of women in contemporary society the status of immigrant artists in Britain developments in science and technology and the promotion of British art and culture abroad The Dilemma of Being Modern Josef Paul Hodin,1956 Being Brahmin, Being Modern Ramesh Bairy,2013-01-11 There is clearly an academic and political obsession with the idea of the Brahmin There is also simultaneously a near complete absence of engagement with the Brahmin as an embodied person or community This book addresses this intriguing paradox by making available a sociological description of the Brahmins in today s Karnataka It pursues three distinct yet enmeshed registers of inquiry the persona of the Brahmin embodied in the agency of the individual Brahmin the organised complexes of action such as the caste association and the public culture of print and finally taking off from a longer yet modern and contemporary history of non Brahminical othering of the Brahmin It argues that we tend to understand the contemporaneity of caste almost exclusively within the twin registers of legitimation contestation and dominance resistance While these facets continue to be salient there is also a need to push out into hitherto neglected dimensions of caste The book focuses attention on the many lives of modern caste its secularisation the subject positions that it offers the equivocations by which persons and communities become subjects of caste their differential investments in the caste self Tea Production, Land Use Politics, and Ethnic Minorities Po-Yi Hung,2016-04-29 In this book Po Yi Hung uses tea production as a lens to investigate the tension between nature and society under the market economy in frontier China By focusing on the landscape of the ancient tea forest guchalin this book aims to understand the interactions among tea trees entrepreneurs the state and the Bulang an ethnic minority population Intensive ethnographic research conducted by the author examines local Bulang villagers everyday lives as entrepreneurs in the market economy at a time of changing moralities and cultural renovations The author explores the dilemmas that arise in this unique region between tradition and modernity territorial margin and connected space and nature and development A Genealogy of Cyborgothic Dongshin Yi,2017-03-02 In his provocative and timely study of posthumanism Dongshin Yi adopts an imaginary imaginative approach to exploring the transformative power of the cyborg a strategy that introduces balance to the current discourses dominated by the practicalities of technoscience and the dictates of anthropocentrism Proposing the term cyborgothic to characterize a new genre that may emerge from gothic literature and science fiction Yi introduces mothering as an aesthetic and ethical practice that can enable a posthumanist relationship between human and non human beings Yi examines the cyborg s literary manifestations in novels including The Mysteries of Udolpho Frankenstein Dracula Arrowsmith and He She and It alongside philosophical and critical texts such as Edmund Burke s A Philosophical Enquiry into the Origins of Our ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful Immanuel Kant s Critique of Judgment John Stuart Mill s Utilitarianism and System of Logic William James s essays on pragmatism ethical treatises on otherness and things feminist writings on motherhood and recent studies of posthumanism Arguing humans imagine the cyborg in ways that are seriously limited by fear of the unknown and current understandings of science and technology Yi identifies in gothic literature a practice of the beautiful that extends the operation of sensibility heightened by gothic manifestations or situations to surrounding objects and people so that new feelings flow in and attenuate fear In science fiction which demonstrates how society has accommodated science Yi locates ethical corrections to the anthropocentric trajectory that such accommodation has taken Thus A Genealogy of Cyborgothic imagines a new literary genre that helps envision a cyborg friendly non anthropocentric posthuman society Encoded with gothic literature s aesthetic embrace of fear and science fiction s ethical criticism of anthropocentrism the cyborgothic retains the prospective nature of these genres and develops mothering as an aesthetico ethical practice that both humans and cyborgs should perform
