The SAGE Handbook of Digital Dissertations and Theses Richard Andrews, Erik Borg, Stephen Boyd Davis, Myrrh Domingo, Jude England, 2012-06-22. This handbook sets out the processes and products of digital research. It is a theoretical and practical guide on how to undertake and navigate advanced research in the arts, humanities, and social sciences. Topics covered include how to make research more accessible, the use of search engines and other sources to determine the scope of work, research training for students, what these dissertations and research reports look like in ten years' time, the storing and archiving of such research, ethics and methodologies in the field, intercultural issues. The editors focus on advances in arts and practice-based doctorates and their application in other fields and disciplines. The contributions chart new territory for universities, research project directors, supervisors, and research students regarding the nature and format of Masters and doctoral work, as well as research projects. This handbook is an essential reference for researchers, supervisors, and administrators on how to conduct and evaluate research projects in a digital and multimodal age. Richard Andrews is Professor in English, Faculty of Children and Learning, Institute of Education. Erik Borg is a Senior Lecturer at Coventry University's Centre for Academic Writing. Stephen Boyd Davis is Research Leader in the School of Design, Royal College of Art. Myrrh Domingo is Visiting Assistant Professor in English Education and Literacy Education at New York University. Jude England is Head of Social Sciences at the British Library.
