Digging Up Bones Vol 4:

Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan, Volume 4: The Early Islamic House Michèle Daviau, 2009-11-23 Much of the archaeology of Late Antique period remains in Jordan has concentrated on public buildings churches mosques theatres baths and their major architectural features such as mosaic floors In this fourth report of the excavations at Tall Jawa in central Jordan a single house with a rich repertoire of pottery mould made lamps glass and a small coin hoard appears to span the transition period from the Late Byzantine to the Early Islamic period Details of the construction of the building itself and of its mosaic pavements the technology of its ceramic corpus analysis of its inscribed lamps painted plaster objects and a small coin hoard all contribute to an understanding of village life for people during a period of linguistic religious and political transition The publication of Excavations at Tall Jawa Jordan Volume 4 The Early Islamic House is an important contribution that adds not only to the growing body of evidence for central Transjordan but also to our understanding of non urban Islamic archaeology and the seventh to eighth century transition Asa Eger University of North Carolina at Greensboro The Secret Queen John Ashdown-Hill, 2011-08-26 When Edward IV died in 1483 the Yorkist succession was called into question by doubts about the legitimacy of his sons the Princes in the Tower The crown therefore passed to Edward IV's undoubtedly legitimate younger brother Richard Duke of Gloucester But Richard too found himself entangled in the web of uncertainty since those who believed in the legitimacy of Edward IV's children viewed Richard III's own accession with suspicion From the day that Edward IV married Eleanor or pretended to do so the House of York previously so secure in its bloodline confronted a contentious and uncertain future John Ashdown Hill argues that Eleanor Talbot was married to Edward IV and that therefore Edward's subsequent union with Elizabeth Widville was bigamous making her children illegitimate In his quest to reveal the truth about Eleanor he also uncovers fascinating new evidence that sheds fresh light on one of the greatest historical mysteries of all time the identity of the bones in the urn in Westminster Abbey believed for centuries to be the remains of the Princes in the Tower Diggin' Up Bones Gregory Pasley, 2019-04 A series of historical articles anecdotes and village tales
