

NEGOTIATING FRAMEWORK

Principles governing the negotiations

1. The accession negotiations will be based on Article 49 of the Treaty on European Union (TEU) and, accordingly, take into account all relevant European Council conclusions, as well as the Joint Statement of the Members of the European Council of March 2020 endorsing the revised enlargement methodology, the renewed consensus on enlargement agreed by the December 2006 European Council and the conclusions of the 1993 European Council in Copenhagen.

The revised enlargement methodology aims to reinvigorate the accession process by making it more predictable, more credible, more dynamic and subject to stronger political steering, based on objective criteria and rigorous positive and negative conditionality, and reversibility.

2. The negotiations will be based on the Republic of Moldova's (hereinafter Moldova) own merits and the pace will depend on Moldova's progress in meeting the requirements for membership. The Commission will keep the Council regularly informed in this respect so that the Council can keep the situation under constant review. The Union side, for its part, will decide in due course whether the conditions for the conclusion of negotiations have been met; this will be done on the basis of a report from the Commission confirming the fulfilment by Moldova of the requirements listed in point 5. The shared objective of the negotiations is accession. By their very nature, the negotiations are an open-ended process whose outcome cannot be guaranteed beforehand.

In the field of the EU's common foreign and security policy (CFSP), the High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy is responsible, in close coordination with the Member States, and the Commission where appropriate, for screening, making proposals in the negotiations and reporting regularly to the Council.
