century and the first couple of decades of the twentieth century plus early American theorists For most of the second half of the twentieth century a fairly high consensus has developed among American sociologists regarding these major founders particularly with regard to the works of Durkheim and Weber in analyzing the overall society and of Simmel in analyzing social interaction processes Since the late 1960s and early 1970s the influence of Marx has also been recognized Recent decades have also witnessed an increased emphasis on the important contributions of several pioneering feminist perspectives in the early years of sociology
