15th Paul D. Converse Symposium James D. Hess, Abbie Griffin, 2001 The Service-Dominant Logic of Marketing Robert F. Lusch, Stephen L. Vargo, 2014-12-18 Expanding on the editors award winning article Evolving to a New Dominant Logic for Marketing this book presents a challenging new paradigm for the marketing discipline This new paradigm is service oriented customer oriented relationship focused and knowledge based and places marketing once viewed as a support function central to overall business strategy Service dominant logic defines service as the application of competencies for the benefit of another entity and sees mutual service provision rather than the exchange of goods as the proper subject of marketing It moves the orientation of marketing from a market to philosophy where customers are promoted to targeted and captured to a market with philosophy where the customer and supply chain partners are collaborators in the entire marketing process The editors elaborate on this model through an historical analysis clarification and extension of service dominant logic and distinguished marketing thinkers then provide further insight and commentary The result is a more comprehensive and inclusive marketing theory that will challenge both current thinking and marketing practice The Marketing Era Kalman Appalbaum, 2004-06-01 Marketing has situated itself as an indispensable tool in today's business world an unavoidable step in the process from production to consumption This book is the first of its kind to map out the organizing principles and cultural logic of marketing and trace the profession's ascent to global domination Appalbaum argues that marketing can be seen as a particular set of cultural practices that surfaced in reaction to the affluence of Western society and not the answer to the call of inherent human needs and wants In order to understand globalization transnational corporations and the spread of consumer culture one must understand the logic of marketing Ethics in the Anthropology of Business Timothy de Waal Malefyt, Robert J Morais, 2017-05-02 Ethics in business is a major topic both in the social sciences and in business itself Anthropologists long attendant to the intersection of ethics and practice are particularly well suited to offer vital insights on the subject This timely collection considers a range of ethical issues in business through the examination of anthropologically informed theory and case examples The meaning of ethical values practices and education are explored as well as practical ways of implementing them while the specific ethical challenges of industries such as advertising market research and design are considered Contributions from anthropologists in business and academia promise a broad range of perspectives and add to the growing discussion on the ways anthropologists study work teach and engage in a variety of industry settings Engagingly written Ethics in the Anthropology of Business will be of interest to a wide variety of audiences including practicing anthropologists current and future business leaders and scholars and students from a range of social sciences Papers and Proceedings of the Fifteenth Annual Meeting ... 1902 American Economic Association, 1903 The History of Marketing Thought Mark Tadajewski, Donald Gordon Brian Jones, 2008 Consumption and Spirituality Diego Rinallo, Linda M.
