Michael Brown

1982 Scott Stp Cat V1:

Neurobiology of Infant Vision Brian Hopkins, Scott P. Johnson, 2003-06-30 The study of visual development has proceeded at a rapid pace in recent years and there have been theoretical and methodological innovations across a wide range of disciplines This book brings together some of the most recent innovations from a neurobiological perspective Chapters cover the pre to postnatal development of vision new insights into the concept of critical periods object and face recognition as well as dynamic perception and visual recognition memory in infants The volume finishes with a detailed overview of the development of visual functions from the perspective of neural network modeling This book will appeal to psychologists visual scientists and infancy researchers with an interest in development of the visual system from a multidisciplinary perspective An integrative introduction is followed by chapters that challenge thinking about development in terms of a nativist empiricist dichotomy Emphasis is on cross disciplinary research links and between chapters readers will find cross references Canadiana ,1981-10
