New Paradigm for Re-engineering Education Yin Cheong Cheng, 2006-01-17 In response to the challenges of globalization and local development, educational reforms are inevitably becoming one of the major trends in the Asia Pacific Region or other parts of the world. Based on the most recent research and international observations, this book aims to present a new paradigm including various new concepts, frameworks, and theories for reengineering education. This book has 21 chapters in three sections. Section I: New Paradigm of Educational Reform, containing eight chapters, illustrates the new paradigm and frameworks of reengineering education, fostering human development and analysing reform policies, and also discusses the trends and challenges of educational reforms in the Asia Pacific Region. Section II: New Paradigm of Educational Leadership, with five chapters, aims to elaborate how the nature, role, and practice of school leadership can be transformed towards a new paradigm and respond to the three waves of education reforms. Section III: Reengineering School Management for Effectiveness, with eight chapters, aims to provide various practical frameworks for reengineering school management processes and implementing changes in school practices.

When Mothers Work, Who Pays? Martha Sugar, 1994-06-22 This book is a comprehensive look at the results of a study done under the auspices of Kent State University that explored the attitudes, beliefs, and life orientation of 253 women between the ages of 25 and 45. Depending upon the amount of employment that the subjects' mothers had outside the home while the subjects were growing up, the adult subjects responded to questions of adjustment to life, overall sense of well-being, emotional stability, and sense of self-fulfillment. The overwhelming response was that women whose mothers had worked while they were growing up were more likely to suffer from depression, to feel less effective as parents, and to report less satisfaction with their parenting skills, careers, and life in general. Contrary to perceived notions of family adjustment to working mothers, day care, and women's liberation, this study forces us to respond to the warning signals issued by a generation of the daughters of working mothers While Sugar s findings are clear and unambiguous she provides ample information for the reader to explore other interpretations of the data and the cause and possible solutions Agriculture and Human Values ,1984 Recovery and Structural Changes of the Japanese Economy Yoshio Suzuki,1993 Public Library Bulletin - Denver Public Library Denver Public Library,1894 Magazines David E.
