Hong Kong Martial Artists Daniel Miles Amos, 2021-03-24 This imaginative and innovative study by Daniel Miles Amos begun in 1976 and completed in 2020 examines sociocultural changes in the practices of Chinese martial artists in two closely related and interconnected southern Chinese cities Hong Kong and Guangzhou The initial chapters of the book compare how sociocultural changes from World War II to the mid 1980s affected the practices of Chinese martial artists in the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong and neighboring Guangzhou in mainland China An analysis is made of how the practices of Chinese martial artists have been influenced by revolutionary sociocultural changes in both cities In Guangzhou the victory of the Chinese Communist Party led to the disappearance in the early 1950s of secret societies and kungfu brotherhoods Kungfu brotherhoods reappeared during the Cultural Revolution and subsequently were transformed again after the death of Mao Zedong and China's opening to capitalism In Hong Kong dramatic sociocultural changes were set off by the introduction of manufacturing production lines by international corporations in the mid 1950s and the proliferation of foreign franchises and products Economic globalization in Hong Kong has led to dramatic increases both in the territory's Gross Domestic Product and in cultural homogenization with corresponding declines in many local traditions and folk cultures including Chinese martial arts The final chapters of the book focus on changes in the practices of Chinese martial arts in Hong Kong from the years 1987 to 2020 a period which includes the last decade of British colonial administration as well as the first quarter of a century of rule by the Chinese government
