MOST COMMON TYPES OF PEDIATRIC BRAIN TUMORS

Brain tumors are rare in children and can either be malignant (cancerous) or benign (non-cancerous). The types of brain cancer found in children are actually different than those most common in adults. They behave differently and often appear in different locations.

GLIOMA

Pilocytic Astrocytoma (Grade I) is the most common type of brain tumor in children. Gliomas originate from the cells that support and nourish neurons in the brain.

MEDULLOBLASTOMA

Located in the cerebellum, which controls balance, coordination, and other complex motor functions. They account for 15-20% of childhood brain tumors.

CHOROID PLEXUS TUMORS

Arise in the tissue located in the spaces of the brain called ventricles. They are more often seen in younger children.

EPENDYMOMA

A tumor that comes from the cells lining the ventricular system of the brain or spinal chord. They are the 3rd most common brain tumors in children.

GERM CELL TUMORS OF THE BRAIN

Germ cell tumors are developed from germ cells - the cells that later become sperm in the testicles or eggs in the ovaries. During the fetal period, they can get "trapped" in the brain.

ATYPICAL TERATOID RABDOID TUMOR (ATRT)

ATRTs are very rare, aggressive tumors of the central nervous system. They mostly occur in the cerebellum (which controls movement and balance) or the brain stem (which controls basic body functions).
