Remarkable Beings Gaston J. Ouellet, Can life change at 570 Miles an hour In this incredible journey you will learn about Soul in relation to Its existence in the physical world and Its spiritual nature You will discover easy techniques enabling you to explore your own inner worlds resulting in the discovery of the ultimate spiritual freedom Soul s spiritual heritage is to be free Gaston s early life was beset by abandonment mental and physical abuse and catastrophic physical injury Through his childhood and youth Gaston s miraculous out of body experiences provided him guidance forewarnings and comfort on a personal level during his hardships at the orphanage and with his various foster families Throughout his life several spiritual guides accompanied him and revealed to him the knowledge of Divine Love hidden in every aspect of life As a child unable to express to anyone his countless amazing out of body experiences he discovered the ancient language of Divine Love Now Gaston finds himself hurtling through the air at over 570 miles an hour on a flight taking him halfway across the world On board he encounters an eccentric cast of characters who seem destined to teach him how to accept the miracle of love in a new way Gaston discloses for the first time in his life his extraordinary out of body experiences to a complete stranger which propels him to the awakening of his lifelong mission Will Gaston be able to remember who he really is Will he be able to recall his spiritual birthright Will he finally find the courage to accept the gift of love Centre and Periphery, Roots and

Exile Friedemann Sallis,Robin Elliott,Kenneth DeLong,2012-08-06 This book examines the impact place and displacement can have on the composition and interpretation of Western art music using as its primary objects of study the work of Istvan Anhalt 1919 2012 Gyrgy Kurt g 1926 and S ndor Veress 1907 92 Although all three composers are of Hungarian origin their careers followed radically different paths Whereas Kurt g remained in Budapest for most of his career Anhalt and Veress left the former in 1946 and immigrated to Canada and the latter in 1948 and settled in Switzerland All three composers have had an extraordinary impact in the cultural environments within which their work took place In the first section Place and

Displacement contributors examine what happens when composers and their music migrate in the culturally complex world of the late twentieth century The past one hundred years produced record numbers of refugees and this fact is now beginning to resonate in the study of music As Anhalt himself forcefully asserts however not all composers who emigrate should be understood as exiles The first chapters of this book explore some of the problems and questions surrounding this issue Essays in the second section Perspectives on Reception Analysis and Interpretation look at how performing acts of interpretation on music implies bringing the time place and identity of the musician the analyst and the teacher to bear on the object of study Like Kodaly Kurt G. considers his work to be naturally embedded in Hungarian culture but he is also a quintessentially European artist Much of his production he is one of the twentieth century's most prolific composers of vocal music involves the setting of Hungarian texts but in the late 1970s his cultural horizons expanded to include texts in Russian German French English and ancient Greek The book explores how musicologists divergent cultural perspectives impinge on the interpretation of this work The final section The Presence of the Past and Memory in Contemporary Music examines the impact time and memory can have on notions of place and identity in music All living art taps into the personal and collective past in one way or another The final four chapters look at various aspects of this relationship
