Declining By Degrees Higher Education At Risk:

Declining by Degrees Richard H. Hersh, John Merrow, 2015-04-07 What is actually happening on college campuses in the years between admission and graduation Not enough to keep America competitive and not enough to provide our citizens with fulfilling lives When A Nation at Risk called attention to the problems of our public schools in 1983 that landmark report provided a convenient cover for higher education inadvertently implying that all was well on America's campuses Declining by Degrees blows higher education's cover It asks tough and long overdue questions about our colleges and universities In candid coherent and ultimately provocative ways Declining by Degrees reveals how students are being short changed by lowered academic expectations and standards why many universities focus on research instead of teaching and spend more on recruiting and athletics than on salaries for professors why students are disillusioned how administrations are obsessed with rankings in news magazines rather than the quality of learning why the media ignore the often catastrophic results and how many professors and students have an unspoken non aggression pact when it comes to academic effort Declining by Degrees argues persuasively that the multi billion dollar enterprise of higher education has gone astray At the same time these essays offer specific prescriptions for change warning that our nation is in fact at greater risk if we do nothing

Declining by Degrees Richard H. Hersh, John Merrow, 2006-05-01 Two decades ago A Nation at Risk sounded a national alarm on K 12 education Now an equally urgent alarm is being sounded for higher education in America In Declining by Degrees leading authors and educators such as Tom Wolfe Jim Fallows and Jay Mathews provide us with a valuable understanding of the serious issues facing colleges today such as budget cuts grade inflation questionable recruitment strategies and a major focus on Big Time Sports Tied to the PBS documentary of the same name Declining by Degrees creates a national discussion about the future of higher education and what we can do about it The Art and Politics of Academic Governance Kenneth P. Mortimer, Colleen O'Brien Sathre, 2010-02-15 Using case studies and relevant literature this book illustrates the challenges to legitimate Shared governance domains when the routine of the academy is forced to deal with big issues often brought on by external forces Mortimer and Sathre have gone beyond a discussion of faculty administrative behavior by focusing on what happens when the legitimate governance claims of faculty trustees and presidents clash They place these relationships in the broader context of internal institutional governance and analyze the dynamics that unfold when advocacy trumps collegiality The book closes with a defense of shared governance and offers observations and practical suggestions about how the academy can share authority effectively and further achieve its mission

Education and Its Discontents Mark Moss, 2012 Education and Its Discontents Teaching the Humanities and the Importance of a Liberal Education in the Age of Mass Information by Mark Moss is an exploration of how the traditional educational environment particularly in the post secondary world is changing as a consequence of the influx of new technology Students come to the classroom or lecture hall expecting to have their habits and tastes gleaned from the online world replicated in an Educational environment Faculty who do not adapt face enormous obstacles and faculty that do adapt run the risk of eroding the integrity of what they have been trained to teach Students now have access to myriad of technologies that instead of supplementing the educational process have actually taken it over Issues that run from plagiarism to the erosion of the humanities are now rampant concerns in the post secondary world Behavior issues YouTube videos cell phones and the incessant clicking of the computer keys are just a few of the technologies altering the educational landscape Moss discusses that it is now not only how we learn but what we continue to teach and how that enormously important legacy is protected Education and Its Discontents Teaching the Humanities and the Importance of a Liberal Education in the Age of Mass Information by Mark Moss argues that education has changed and the supremacy of the book and the lecture is now open for debate What has been gained over the last five hundred years is now susceptible to the vagaries of technology which compel us to question their continuing relevance Higher Education and the Market Roger Brown,2010-09-13 The introduction of market forces into higher education is the most crucial issue facing universities and colleges today As the role of universities in the knowledge society becomes ever more apparent and as public funding reaches its limit marketisation has become an issue of critical importance Discussions about the ever increasing cost of tuition affordability access university rankings information and the commercialization of academic research take place not just in North America Western Europe and Australasia but also in Eastern Europe Asia and Latin America Higher Education and the Market provides a comprehensive account of this phenomenon and looks at its likely impact on key dimensions of university activity system structure funding and resources the curriculum participation and achievement research and scholarship interactions with third parties Contributors propose how market forces government intervention and academic self regulation can be combined to harness the benefits of increased competition and efficiency without losing the public good It is of particular interest to government and institutional leaders policy makers researchers and students studying higher education Annual Report Community College of Denver,2004 NACADA Journal ,2006 TV Guide ,2005 WPA, Writing Program Administration ,2007 Faculty at the Margins Nancy Van Note Chism,2008-09-16 Four chapters explore contingent contractual arrangements for faculty employment distinguishing them in four year two year and virtual university contexts Four chapters then examine the issues of historically underrepresented faculty women people of color and international scholars who are becoming a larger proportion of the total faculty population but often at slower rates and in less advantageous categories than majority members Three chapters in the final part look at faculty who choose or agree to focus on work that is not normally at the top of the institutional value scheme student learning and development and community service Positive initiatives already in progress can improve the situations and effectiveness of members of all of these groups Speaking of Higher Education Jason Johnson,2008 Learning Spaces Diana Oblinger,2006 El espacio ya sea físico o virtual puede tener un impacto significativo en el aprendizaje Learning Spaces se centra en la forma en que las expectativas de los alumnos influyen en dichos espacios en los principios y actividades que facilitan el aprendizaje y en el papel de la tecnología desde la perspectiva de quienes crean los entornos de aprendizaje profesores tecnólogos del aprendizaje bibliotecarios y administradores La tecnología de la información ha aportado capacidades nuevas a los espacios de aprendizaje ya sea estimulando una mayor interacción mediante el uso de herramientas de colaboración videoconferencias con expertos internacionales o abriendo mundos virtuales para la exploración Este libro representa una exploración continua a medida que unimos el espacio la tecnología y la pedagogía para asegurar el éxito de los estudiantes Trusteeship, 2006
