Death in modern theatre Adrian Curtin, 2019-02-15 Death in modern theatre offers a unique account of modern Western theatre focusing on the ways in which dramatists and theatre makers have explored historically informed ideas about death and dying in their work It investigates the opportunities theatre affords to reflect on the end of life in a compelling and socially meaningful fashion In a series of interrelated mostly chronological micronarratives beginning in the late nineteenth century and ending in the early twenty first century this book considers how and why death and dying are represented at certain historical moments using dramaturgy and aesthetics that challenge audiences conceptions sensibilities and sense making faculties It includes a mix of well known and lesser known plays from an international range of dramatists and theatre makers and offers original interpretations through close reading and performance analysis Public Health Service Publication, 1967 Loudoun County, Virginia Death Register, 1853-1896 Elizabeth R. rethinking of the humanities and social sciences around the idea of postmodernism It leads the reader on an exhilarating tour encompassing the end of Marxism the enchantment of fashion symbolism about sex and the body and the relations between economic exchange and death Most significantly the book represents Baudrillard s fullest elaboration of the concept of the three orders of the simulacra defining the historical passage from production to reproduction to simulation A classic in its field Symbolic Exchange and Death is a key source for the redefinition of contemporary social thought Baudrillard s critical gaze appraises social theories as diverse as cybernetics ethnography psychoanalysis feminism Marxism communications theory and semiotics
