Asian Voices:

Asian Voices in English Mimi Chan, Ray Harris, 1991-08-01 A selection of papers presented at the Symposium on English Literature by Asian authors entitled Asian Voices in English held at The University of Hong Kong 27-30 April 1990. Two kinds of writing experience are focused upon: one is the experience of post-colonial writers who are re-appropriating the English language for their own cultural purposes; the other is the experience of immigrant writers who bring an Asian view to bear on the culture of the English-speaking countries in which they live.

Asian Voices Lin Zhan, 1999. NLN Press proudly presents the newest publication in the Voices series. Here Asian and Asian American health educators discuss the implications of cultural factors in providing health services to Asian and Asian American communities. They also explore multiple issues concerning Asian Americans' health: health promotion and disease prevention in elderly Chinese American women; the implications of Japanese health care; HIV/AIDS in Asian Americans; Buddhist ethics and implications for end-of-life issues; the dilemma in searching for health care; traditional Chinese medicines; Korean women's health; and much more.

East Asian Voices of Resistance Against Racism in Music Ken Ueno, Maiko Kawabata, 2025-03-18. The negative racialization of East Asian musicians in Western classical music manifests through tropes of othering such as Yellow Peril, Orientalism, and various harmful stereotypes. This volume centers East Asian voices in collaboration with our allies as narrators of our own racialized experiences in music. Featuring eleven contributions in a mixture of tone that is academic and personal or reflective, thus deliberately disrupting conventional linguistic norms, the volume brings together our voices in a creative act of resistance against racism in music and in solidarity with activism that targets inequalities in the arts more broadly. The volume is, to our knowledge, the first of its kind. Intended for musicians and artists, academics, and students, it will dynamize topical conversations circling around issues of equality, diversity, and inclusion so as to contribute towards positive change.

This study of intellectuals and their cosmopolitan life trajectories is based on anthropological and historical research in Vietnam and India, two great Asian societies with contrasting experiences of empire, decolonisation, and the rise and fall of the twentieth-century socialist world system. Building on the author's long-standing research experience in India and on remarkable family narratives collected during fieldwork in northern Vietnam, the book deals with epic events and complex social transformations from a perspective that emphasizes the personal and the familial. Its central theme is the extraordinary mobility of intelligentsia lives.

The author explores the role of the intellectual in the economic social and cultural transformation of the post colonial world through in depth ethnographic fieldwork methods In identifying parallels and contrasts between Hanoi s socialist moderns and the family and career experiences of their Indian counterparts the book makes a distinctive contribution to the study of colonial socialist and post socialist Asia Bibliography of Asian Studies ,1994 Abstracts in Anthropology ,1988
