Aspects Of Memory The Practical Aspects Vol 1:

Practical Aspects of Memory: Current Research and Issues, Volume 1 M. M. Gruneberg, P. E. Morris, R. N. Sykes, 1988
These two volumes will form the largest single collection of current research in applied memory studies one of the principle areas of expanding research in applied cognitive psychology The books arose from the 2nd International Conference on Aspects of Memory held in Swansea in August 1987 the first conference was held ten years ago and contained selected and refereed papers from eminent psychologists working in the field of memory and actively engaged in applied memory research

Mechanisms of Everyday Cognition James M. Puckett, Hayne Waring Reese, 1993 First Published in 1993 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company
Memory Distortions and Their Prevention Deborah L. Best, Margaret J. Intons-Peterson, 2013-05-13 This volume explores the well documented phenomena of memory distortion in a variety of settings as well as how it can be ameliorated or prevented altogether The editors have recruited some of the very best researchers in the applied cognitive field to address these issues These authors examine distortion from several angles fuzzy trace theory face identification memory deficits with age collaborative influences on distortion sociocultural influences on memory retention of procedural and declarative information and ignorance of medical and other information The final chapter addresses the issue of cognitive technology in general Because of the surge of interest in applied cognitive psychology and in the memory distortion issue in particular this book will be valuable to many applied and basic researchers

Memory Improvement Douglas J. Herrmann, Herbert Weingartner, Alan Searleman, Cathy McEvoy, 2012-12-06 Memory Improvement Implications for Memory Theory brings together researchers working on various aspects in the field Recent findings on memory improvement are examined and their relevance to memory theory is demonstrated A majority of the chapters review how certain psychological factors psychopharmacology emotional state metamemory strategies practice external aids social interaction context and attention may be influenced to improve one s memory In the final chapters an attempt is made to relate memory improvement phenomena to the theory of memory improvement and to memory theory in general This book extends understanding of memory and questions to what extent the memory system functions independently of the rest of the psychological system The book is aimed at a broad spectrum of psychologists interested in state of the art memory improvement research from both a practical and a theoretical perspective
Cognition In Action Alan F. Collins, Philip Levy, Peter E. Morris, Mary M. Smyth, 1994-08-05 This revised textbook is designed for undergraduate courses in cognitive psychology It approaches cognitive psychology by asking what it says about how people carry out everyday activities how people organize and use their knowledge in order to behave appropriately in the world in which they live Each chapter of the book starts with an example and then uses this to introduce some aspect of the overall cognitive system Through such examples of cognition in action important components of the cognitive system are identified and their interrelationships highlighted Thus the text demonstrates that each part of the cognitive system can only be understood properly in its place in the functioning of the whole This edition features increased coverage of neuropsychological and connectionist approaches to cognition

Prospective Memory Maria A. Brandimonte, Gilles O. Einstein, Mark A. McDaniel, 2014-02-25 Devoted exclusively to prospective memory this volume organizes the research and thoughts of the important contributors to the field in one comprehensive resource The chapter authors not only focus on their own work but also review other research areas and address those where the methods and theories from the retrospective memory literature are useful and where they fall short Each section is followed by at least one commentary written by a prominent scholar in the field of memory The commentators present critical analyses of the chapters note ideas that they found particularly exciting and use these ideas as a foundation on which to elaborate their own views of prospective memory This volume will stimulate the thinking of active prospective memory researchers provide a coherent organization of the area for the increasing number of people who are interested in prospective memory but who are not yet actively conducting research in the area and serve as a book of readings for upper division seminars

Theoretical Perspectives on Autobiographical Memory M.A. Conway, David C. Rubin, Hans Spinnler, Willem A. Wagenaar, 2013-04-17 The meeting Theoretical Perspectives on Autobiographical Memory was held at the Grange Hotel Grange over Sands in the Lake District region of North Western England July 1991 The workshop was financed by a generous grant from the NATO Scientific Affairs Division under the Advanced Research Workshop programme and without this funding the meeting would not have been possible the organisers and delegates gratefully acknowledge the support of the NATO Advanced Research Workshops programme Thirty five scientists from five different NATO countries attended the workshop and twenty seven delegates presented papers The two aims of the workshop were to bring together in one forum a number of comparatively separate approaches to autobiographical memory and to promote theory in the area generally These aims were fulfilled in the presentations and discussions particularly the final discussion session in which delegates focussed on the central issues of the nature structure and functions of autobiographical memory and how these emerge in different research areas The present volume contains the papers arising from the workshop We thank Mrs Sheila Whalley for secretarial help and Fiona Hirst and Stephen Anderson for practical assistance in coordinating registration for the workshop

Autobiographical Memory Charles P. Thompson, Douglas J. Herrmann, Darryl Bruce, J. Don Read, David G. Payne, 2014-10-10 The organization of the first Society for Applied Research in Memory and Cognition SARMAC conference centered around two specifically identifiable research topics autobiographical memory and eyewitness memory These two areas long time staples on the menu of investigators of memory in more natural settings differ on a variety of dimensions perhaps most notably in their specific goals for scientific inquiry and application For many questions about memory and cognition that are of interest to scientific psychology there have been historical as well as rather arbitrary reasons for their assignment to the autobiographical or eyewitness memory fields Perhaps as a result of differing historical orientations the first volume s seven autobiographical memory chapters focus upon the qualities or types of recall from research participants whereas the seven chapters in the eyewitness memory volume generally focus upon the quantity a concern for completeness and accuracy of recall This interest in the ultimate end product and its application within the legal process in general encourages eyewitness memory investigators to modify their testing procedures continually in an attempt to gain even more information from participants about an event Indeed several of the eyewitness memory chapters reflect such attempts Beyond the specific contributions of each chapter to the literature on autobiographical and eyewitness memory the editors hope that the reader will come away with some general observations the autobiographical and eyewitness memory fields are thriving these two fields are likely to remain center stage in the further investigation of memory in natural contexts although the autobiographical and eyewitness memory chapters have been segregated in these two volumes the separation is often more arbitrary than real and connections between the two areas abound the two research traditions are entirely mindful of fundamental laboratory methods research and theory sometimes drawing their research inspirations from that quarter and the two fields though driven largely by everyday memory concerns can contribute to a more basic understanding of memory at both an empirical and a theoretical level

The Psychology of Memory (Vol. 1) Peter E. Morris, Martin A. Conway, 1993-06 This major new series reproduces an authoritative selection of the most significant articles in different areas of psychology It focuses in particular on influential articles which are not found in other similar collections Many of these articles are only available in specialized journals and therefore are not accessible in every library This landmark series will make a contribution to scholarship and teaching in psychology It will improve access to important areas of literature which are difficult to locate even in the archives of many libraries throughout the world Important features in each book make the series an essential research and reference tool including introductions written by the individual editors providing a lucid survey of different branches of psychology The pagination of the original articles has been deliberately retained to facilitate ease of reference A comprehensive author and subject index guides the reader instantly to major and minor topics within the literature This set presents the most important articles in the psychology of memory divided into the following areas The First Explorers Encoding Processes Retrieval Processes Context Sensory Memory Working Memory Semantic Memory Expanding Into New Areas The New Territories Expertise Implicit Memory Exploring Everyday Memory Articles in these volumes have been drawn from various books and from the following journals Neurology Psychological Review Verbal Learning and Verbal Behavior Cognitive Psychology Psychological Review Journal of Experimental Psychology Journal of General Psychology American Psychologist Perception and Psychophysics British Journal of Psychology Quarterly Journal of Experimental Psychology Journal of Memory and Language Journal of Neurology Neurosurgery and Psychiatry Neuropsychologia Psychological Bulletin Science and Cognition
