Evan Johanna Pruitt

Assemblage 20 Violence Space:

The Muses Jean-Luc Nancy, 1996 Jean Luc Nancy's probing analysis of art and the sensible presentation of an idea examines why there are several arts and not just one. He uses Hegel's conclusions in Aesthetics and the Phenomenology of Spirit as support for his theory.

Interdisciplinary Handbook of Trauma and Culture Yochai Ataria, David Gurevitz, Haviva Pedaya, Yuval Neria, 2016-09-15 This lofty volume analyzes a circular cultural relationship not only how trauma is reflected in cultural processes and products but also how trauma itself acts as a critical shaper of literature, the visual and performing arts, architecture, and religion, and mythmaking. The political power of trauma is seen through US, Israeli, and Japanese art forms as they reflect varied roles of perpetrator, victim, and witness. Traumatic complexities are traced from spirituality to movement philosophy to trauma theory. And essays on authors such as Kafka, Plath, and Cormac McCarthy examine how narrative can blur the boundaries of personal and collective experience. Among the topics covered: Television, a traumatic culture, From Hiroshima to Fukushima, comics and animation as subversive agents of memory in Japan, The death of the witness in the era of testimony, Primo Levi and Georges Perec, Sigmund Freud's Moses and Monotheism, and the possibility of writing a traumatic history of religion. Placing collective trauma within its social context, the case of the 9/11 attacks, Killing the killer, rampage and gun rights as a syndrome. This volume appeals to multiple readerships including researchers and clinicians, sociologists, anthropologists, historians, and media researchers.

Work-Life Balance in Architecture Igea Troiani, 2024-03-04 This book seeks to improve the work lives of architects of diverse demographics who do not fit or want to replicate the traditional 24/7 white male architect lifestyle. Aimed at a workforce whose life and career expectations have changed drastically in recent years, it helps readers of different generations to make informed choices about their careers, enabling students, educators, and professionals to prioritise wellbeing and offer their design and practice voice to enhance a built environment for all. Work Life Balance in Architecture examines what it means to play the game of architecture, to choose to study and pursue a career in architecture rather than another profession. The book shows the economic, social, and professional structures within which architectural education and practice operate and reveals the impact of a corporate, neoliberal, big business mentality on wellbeing. After setting out the context, exacerbating work-life imbalance, the book discusses the paths an architect may take, whether this leads to a career in practice or not in architecture at all, and how alternative gameplay moves can advantage or disadvantage those of different gender, class, ethnicity, race, or age at different career stages. It concludes by examining how the places in which an architect works, the time available to work, and critiques of perpetual neoliberal economic growth can enhance the lives of all architects today.

Why Don't You Just Talk to Him? Kathleen R. Arnold, 2015 Why Don't You Just Talk to Him? looks at the broad political contexts in which violence, specifically domestic violence, occurs. Kathleen Arnold argues that liberal and Enlightenment notions of the social contract, rationality, and egalitarianism, the ideas that constitute norms of good citizenship, have an inextricable relationship to violence According to this dynamic targets of abuse are not rational make bad choices are unable to negotiate with their abusers or otherwise violate norms of the social contract they are thus second class citizens In fact as Arnold shows drawing from Nietzsche and Foucault s theories of power and arguing against much of the standard policy literature on domestic violence the very mechanisms that purportedly help targets of domestic abuse actually work to compound the problem by exacerbating or ignoring the power differences between the abuser and the abused The book argues that a key to understanding how to prevent domestic violence is seeing it as a political rather than a personal issue with political consequences It seeks to challenge Enlightenment ideas about intimacy that conceive of personal relationships as mutual equal and contractual Put another way it challenges policy ideas that suggest that targets of abuse can simply choose to leave abusive relationships without other personal or economic consequences or that there is a clear and consistent level of help once they make the choice to leave Asking Why Don t You Just Talk to Him is in reality a suggestion riven with contradictions and false choices Arnold further explores these issues by looking at two key asylum cases that highlight contradictions within the government s treatment of foreigners and that of long term residents These cases expose problematic assumptions in the approach to domestic violence more generally Exposing major injustices from the point of view of domestic violence targets this book promises to generate further debate if not consensus

Speaking of Buildings Naomi Stead,Janina Gosseye,Deborah van der Plaet,2019-10-15 By and large architectural historians use texts drawings and photographs to craft their narratives Oral testimony from those who actually occupy or construct buildings is rarely taken as seriously Speaking of Buildings offers a rebuttal theorizing the radical potential of a methodology that has historically been cast as unreliable Essays by an international group of scholars look at varied topics from the role of gossip in undermining masculine narratives in architecture to workers accounts of building with cement in midcentury London to a sound art piece created by oral testimonies from Los Angeles public housing residents In sum the authors call for a renewed form of listening to enrich our understanding of what buildings are what they do and what they mean to people

Race and the Foundations of Knowledge Joseph A. Young,Jana Evans Braziel,2006 This anthology demonstrates the longstanding multifarious and major role that race has played in the formation of knowledge The authors demonstrate how race theory intersects with other bodies of knowledge by examining discursive records such as travelogues literature and historiography theoretical structures such as common sense pseudoscientific racism and Eurocentrism social structures of class advancement and identity and politico economic structures of capitalism colonialism and law

Spatial Practices Helen Liggett,David C. Perry,1995-01-23 Spatial Practices makes a timely and significant contribution to the growing literature on social spatial theory In it the notion of spacial practice takes on a rich and layered meaning for some of America s leading scholars as they critically link the theoretical practices of the space of their disciplines to the practical social space of everyday political and economic urban life Original essays provide compelling insights into the space of racial politics the unavoidability of recognizing a radical planning practice and the imagistic face of the contemporary figured city The reader will find rich conceptual tools presented in discussions that grapple with issues raised by the production of reduced public space in common interest developments and the ubiquitous mall the ideologies of economic restructuring the rhetorical politics of urban revitalization and the analytic potential of the photo text Students and scholars interested in how spatial theory has enriched and renewed urban theory will find Spatial Practices invaluable It will be useful in a wide range of classes across disciplines including urban studies urban planning architecture political science sociology geography economics and policy studies This collection explores the exciting analytical edge where investigations of urban political economy converge with cultural studies In their exploration of theory and practice as they relate to the production of space the authors cover a dazzling range of topics Yet despite their varying preoccupations the essays merge into a unified inquiry that reveals the functions and meanings of contemporary spatial forms All those who are interested in the forces shaping urban and regional development as well as in the impact of space on social relations must read this book Susan S Fainstein Rutgers University Spatial Practices at the very least provokes consideration of how for example symbolic everyday and representational space are constituted through sites of everyday practice such as housing and the home Housing Studies

War, Police and Assemblages of Intervention
Jan Bachmann, Colleen Bell, Caroline Holmqvist, 2014-11-13 This book reflects on the way in which war and police policing intersect in contemporary Western led interventions in the global South The volume combines empirically oriented work with ground breaking theoretical insights and aims to collect for the first time thoughts on how war and policing converge amalgamate diffuse and dissolve in the context both of actual international intervention and in understandings thereof The book uses the caption WAR POLICE to highlight the distinctiveness of this volume in presenting a variety of approaches that share a concern for the assemblage of war police as a whole The volume thus serves to bring together critical perspectives on liberal interventionism where the logics of war and police policing blur and bleed into a complex assemblage of WAR POLICE Contributions to this volume offer an understanding of police as a technique of ordering and collectively take issue with accounts of the character of contemporary war that argue that war is simply reduced to policing In contrast the contributions show how both historically and conceptually the two are always already connected Contributions to this volume come from a variety of disciplines including international relations war studies geography anthropology and law but share a critical poststructuralist approach to the study of international intervention war and policing This volume will be useful to students and scholars who have an interest in social theories on intervention war security and the making of international order Grand Street Grand Street, Jean Stein, 1993-04 Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals. 2d Ed., Rev. and Enl Avery Library, 1995 Opportunistic Quarantine in a Pandemic City Evan Johanna Pruitt, 2009 Transition , 1979 Assemblage , 1993 Punctuations Michael J. Shapiro, 2019-11-22 In Punctuations Michael J Shapiro examines how punctuation conceived not as a series of marks but as a metaphor for the ways in which artists engage with intelligibility opens pathways for thinking through the possibilities for oppositional politics Drawing on Theodor Adorno Alain Robbe Grillet and Roland Barthes Shapiro demonstrates how punctuation s capacity to create unexpected rhythmic pacing makes it an ideal tool for writers musicians filmmakers and artists to challenge structures of power In works ranging from film scores and jazz compositions to literature architecture and photography Shapiro shows how the use of punctuation reveals the contestability of dominant narratives in ways that prompt readers viewers and listeners to reflect on their acceptance of those narratives Such uses of punctuation he theorizes offer models for disrupting structures of authority thereby fostering the creation of alternative communities of sense from which to base political mobilization
