Asian Perceptions Of Nature A Critical Approach:

Asian Perceptions of Nature Ole Bruun, Arne Kalland, 1995 This highly acclaimed bold and refreshing collection of essays takes a critical look at Asians perception of their natural environments as well as at Western views of Asia in this respect

Asian perceptions of nature Ole Bruun, 1992

Asian Perceptions of Nature Ole Bruun, Arne Kalland, 2014-02-25 This highly acclaimed bold and refreshing collection of essays takes a critical look at Asians perception of their natural environments as well as at Western views of Asia in this respect

Japanese Images of Nature Pamela J. Asquith, Arne Kalland, 1997 Documents the great diversity in how people perceive their natural environment and how they come to terms with nature be it through brute force rituals or idealization The main message of the book is that nature and the natural are concepts very much conditioned by their context

Nature Across Cultures Helaine Selin, 2013-04-17

Nature Across Cultures Views of Nature and the Environment in Non Western Cultures consists of about 25 essays dealing with the environmental knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside of the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Indian Thai and Andean views of nature and the environment among others the book includes essays on Environmentalism and Images of the Other Traditional Ecological Knowledge Worldviews and Ecology Rethinking the Western non Western Divide and Landscape Nature and Culture The essays address the connections between nature and culture and relate the environmental practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both environmental history and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups

Agriculture & Philosophy:

Agricultural Science in Philosophy Lindsay Falvey, 2020-01-01 Agriculture and philosophy have been parts of a whole across history and remain so Philosophy informs wellbeing and contentment amidst the vagaries of existence the primary concern of which has always been security of food Science once known as natural philosophy is a major means of philosophical advance today Agricultural science is presented as comprising all of these components The philosophical quest to be at ease in nature extends from pre historical times into our unknown future and employs diverse vehicles to convey insights across generations via myths legends religion academic study and ritual practices Expressing esoteric concepts has employed agricultural metaphor across the historical era as it has been our most common interaction with nature Continuing as our most widespread human interaction within nature agriculture s role in creating civilization and later its writing eventually led to an urban separation from nature including food production Unifying the philosophy agriculture and agricultural science across cultures and traditions from pre agricultural times through the European Enlightenment to today this work builds on neglected ancient insights Perhaps the most profound of these insights is that our thoughts and actions may be seen as an integral part of nature Rather than being independent agents with free will our fears and guilt may be seen as active forces in the dynamics of nature itself which includes our procurement of food This conception offers a wider interaction than can be comprehended from current popular approaches

Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions H. S. A. Yahya, 2010-10-22 Covering three broader issues biodiversity conservation religious doctrine and environment the book Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions is the result of a unique approach It attempts to initiate scientific discourse through the fabric of religions Spread across 15 chapters the book covers the essence of 10 religions on biodiversity encompassing a wide range of issues related to conservation The book promises to be a useful resource for biodiversity students researchers and protected area managers and also for religious scholars who are invited to look at the broader themes of religions beyond theology

Animal Spaces, Beastly Places Chris Philo, Chris Wilbert, 2004-08-02 Animal Spaces Beastly Places examines how animals interact and relate with people in different ways Using a comprehensive range of examples which include feral cats and wild wolves to domestic animals and intensively farmed cattle the contributors explore the complex relations in which humans and non human animals are mixed together Our emotions involving animals range from those of love and compassion to untold cruelty force violence and power As humans we have placed different animals into different categories according to some notion of species usefulness domesticity or wildness As a result of these varying and often contested orderings animals are assigned to particular places and spaces Animal Spaces Beastly Places shows us that there are many exceptions and variations on the spatiality of human animal spatial orderings within and across cultures and over time It develops new ways of thinking about human animal interactions and encourages us to find better ways for humans and animals to live together

Imagining Nature Andreas Roepstorff, Nils Bubandt, Kalevi Kull, 2003 This book makes an innovative exploration into some of the implications and lacunae associated with the recent push by many social scientists to denaturalise nature The contributors to this volume describe the diverse forms which the dialectic between nature as fact and nature as imagined may take and they show how this seeming dichotomy is a constantly shifting whole

Muddied Waters P. Boomgaard, David Henley, Manon Osseweijer, 2005 This book examines the history of human interaction with forest and marine ecosystems in Indonesia Malaysia and the Philippines Rainforests falling to snarling chainsaws and factory trawlers emptying the life out of tropical seas are nowadays among the most familiar images of Southeast Asia Yet the present excessive levels of logging and fishing have emerged only within the last generation Until a few decades ago it was common for marine and forest related economic activities in Southeast Asia to have limited and in the long run rather stable effects on the environment Did this relative stability simply reflect lower population densities less well developed markets and less efficient extraction technologies Or was it the result of successful resource management techniques and institutions If so why have these since failed or been abandoned Seventeen contributions by an international selection of expert authors cover topics ranging from the collection of rattan beeswax and forest resins in the seventeenth century to the management of modern marine nature reserves Muddied waters is essential reading for anyone interested in the environmental history of Southeast Asia whether in connection with other aspects of this particular region or in relation to patterns of environmental change and resource management in other parts of the world In the Time of Trees and Sorrows Ann Grodzins Gold, Bhoju Ram Gujar, 2002 A collaborative ethnography that collects ordinary persons recollections of everyday life politics and the environment in Rajasthan from when the state was a kingdom and since independence

Religion and the Environment: Ectheology II: Islma, Asian traditions and indigenous traditions Roger S. Gottlieb, 2010 In the last two decades a new form of religiously motivated social action and a virtually new field of academic study each based in recognition of the connections between religion and humanity s treatment of the environment have developed Interactions between religion and environmental concern have been manifest in the explosive growth of ecotheological writings institutional commitment by organized religions and environmental activism explicitly oriented to religious ideals Clergy throughout the world in virtually every denomination have received word from leaders of their religion that the environment no less than sexuality poverty or war and peace is now a basic and compelling religious matter Out of this confrontation have been born vital new theologies based in the recovery of marginalized elements of tradition profound criticisms of the past and ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings Theologians from every religious tradition along with dozens of non denominational spiritual writers have confronted world religions past attitudes towards nature In the realm of institutional commitment public statements and actions by organized religions have grown dramatically In the context of political action throughout the U S and the world religiously oriented groups take part in environmentally oriented political action from lobbying and consciousness raising to activist demonstrations and civil disobedience This collection serves as a comprehensive introduction overview and in depth account of these exciting new developments The four volumes cover virtually every aspect of the field from theological change and institutional commitment to innovation in liturgy from new ecumenical connections among different religions and between religion science and environmental movements from religious participation in environmental politics to an account of the global social
