Contemporary Composition Studies Edith Babin, Kimberly Harrison, 1999-12-30 Composition studies is a rapidly growing and constantly changing field At present however graduate students new to the field and writing teachers who want to make new connections between theory and practice have little choice of current reference works that define key terms in composition studies and provide information about the scholars and researchers who have shaped and are shaping the discipline This book supplies this information in an easily accessible format and places both scholars and terms in the context of the field s development Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 108 individuals who have developed the field and 128 terms central to the discipline The first part of the book provides entries for leaders in composition studies Each entry identifies the areas in which the scholar has contributed most influentially to the field and provides both a chronological overview of the person s contributions and a bibliography of representative works The second part includes entries for terms that are problematic both for newcomers and for those already familiar with the discipline The entries for the terms show how the disciplinary context has shaped the ways in which they have been used The entries also indicate how established thinkers in composition studies and other disciplines have explained or defined the terms provide examples of the terms in context and list scholars often associated with them An appendix includes entries for scholars from other disciplines who have contributed to the field

Critical Realism and Composition Theory Donald Judd, 2005-07-05 This volume examines expressivist cognitivist and social constructivist theories within composition theory and critiques the epistemological focus of modern composition theory and its neglect of the ontological foundations

Invention in Rhetoric and Composition Janice M. Lauer, 2004 Invention in Rhetoric and Composition examines issues that have surrounded historical and contemporary theories and pedagogies of rhetorical invention citing a wide array of positions on these issues in both primary rhetorical texts and secondary interpretations It presents theoretical disagreements over the nature purpose and epistemology of invention and pedagogical debates over such issues as the relative importance of art talent imitation and practice in teaching discourse After a discussion of treatments of invention from the Sophists to the nineteenth century Invention in Rhetoric and Composition introduces a range of early twentieth century multidisciplinary theories and calls for invention s awakening in the field of English studies It then showcases inventional theories and pedagogies that have emerged in the field of Rhetoric and Composition over the last four decades including the ensuing research critiques and implementations of this inventional work As a reference guide the text offers a glossary of terms an annotated bibliography of selected texts and an extensive bibliography Janice M Lauer is Professor of English Emerita at Purdue University where she was the Reece McGee Distinguished Professor of English In 1998 she received the College Composition and Communication Conference s Exemplar Award Her publications include Four Worlds of Writing Inquiry and Action in Context Composition Research Empirical Designs and New Perspectives on Rhetorical Invention as well as essays on rhetorical invention disciplinarity writing as inquiry composition pedagogy historical rhetoric and empirical research Simon & Schuster Handbook for Writers Lynn Quitman Troyka,Ann B. Dobie,Emily R. Gordon,1993 Designing Writing Tasks for the Assessment of Writing Leo Ruth,Sandra Murphy,1988 This volume reports the results of a series of investigations of the properties of writing tasks their authors intentions and the responses that these tasks evoked in student writers and teacher raters The volume explains how both student writers and teacher raters in their reading of the same topic text can arrive at different meanings The investigations undertaken led the authors to make a number of recommendations about selecting subjects specifying audience and mode formulating instructions and wording the topic These recommendations are presented in non technical language in a comprehensive set of Guidelines for Designing Topics for Writing Assessments Assessing Second Language Writing in Academic Contexts Liz Hamp-Lyons,1991 This is the first volume to focus on the assessment of second language writing The collection as a whole provides coverage of all issues in second language writing assessment starting from the context in which and for which assessment must occur moving through the aspects of decision making and design in a writing assessment program and then considering how the need to evaluate any program on assessment can be carried out After a discussion of issues of public reporting an area which will receive increasing attention in the next few years the volume closes with a discussion of what new issues and answers the future may bring The book reflects the current belief in direct writing assessment in second language writing assessment While it is often expected that those working with ESL students will focus on language error throughout the book themes of needs attitudes ideas and content dominate For second language writers the use of written language to learn to create knowledge and to share ideas and beliefs are vitally important Additionally issues of cross cultural academic literacy practical information on criteria and scoring models for use with ESL writers and research on the efficacy and effects of various assessment models are provided The book blends theory and practice in a way which offers all
