

The book cover features a stylized illustration. The background is a warm, orange-brown color. A dark blue, ribbon-like path winds across the middle. On this path, a figure with a long, thin body and a red torso lies horizontally. Below the path, two butterflies are depicted: one with blue and white wings, and another with red wings and a yellow eye. In the upper right corner, there are small, colorful houses (red, blue, purple) and green trees. The overall style is artistic and surreal.

Astonishing Splashes Of Colour:

Astonishing Splashes of Colour Clare Morrall,2003 When is the right time to tell someone they're not who they think they are Caught in an over vivid world Kitty is tipped off centre by the loss of her child that never was And as children all around become emblems of hope and longing and grief she's made shockingly aware of why she has this pervasive sense of non existence What mystery makes Kitty's decidedly odd family so vague about her mother's life And why does Dad splash paint on canvas rather than answer his daughter's questions On the edges of her dreams Kitty glimpses the kaleidoscope van that took her sister Dinah away will it connect her to her childhood This compelling and witty debut tells of identity struggles in a large family the sadness of lost children and the optimism of an eccentric loving marriage He'd make a wonderful husband if it wasn't for me Clare Morrall's insightful narrative has resonated with hundreds of thousands of readers since its

Booker Prize shortlisting in 2003 and continues to make new fans each year Peter Pan (100th Anniversary Edition) J. M. Barrie,2003-10 The adventures of Peter Pan the boy who would not grow up The Last of the Greenwoods Clare Morrall,2018-02-08 In a field outside Bromsgrove two elderly brothers live in adjoining railway carriages No one visits and they never speak to each other Until the day Zohra Dasgupta a young postwoman delivers an extraordinary letter from a woman claiming to be the sister they thought had been murdered fifty years earlier So begins an intriguing tale is this woman an impostor If she's not what did happen all those years ago And why are the brothers such recluses Then there's Zohra Once a bright outgoing teenager the only friend she will see from her schooldays is laidback Crispin who has roped her in to the restoration of an old railway line on his father's land For which as it happens they need some carriages With wry humour and a cast of characters as delightful as they are damaged Clare Morrall tells an engrossing story of past misdeeds and present reckoning which shows that for all the wrong turnings we might take sometimes it is possible to retrace our steps

Natural Flights of the Human Mind Clare Morrall,2010-04-02 Peter Straker lives in a converted lighthouse on the Devon coast with a fine view of the sea two cats and no neighbors That's just the way he likes it He speaks to no one except in his dreams where he converses with some of the seventy eight people he believes he killed nearly a quarter century earlier though he can't quite remember how it happened But Straker's carefully preserved solitude is about to be invaded by Imogen Doody a prickly and unapproachable school caretaker with a painful history herself Against his will and hers Straker soon finds himself helping Imogen repair the run down cottage she's inherited There are forces gathering however as the twenty fifth anniversary of Straker's crime approaches and they're intent upon disturbing his precarious peace
