A Kind Of Praying:

Promise and Prayer Anthony C. Thiselton,2020-11-12 In the Bible promise and prayer are essential and connected components of the inter personal relationship between God and his people And both promise and prayer are kinds of action undertaken by means of speaking utterances philosophers refer to as speech acts In the case of promises this is clear they constitute firm commitments to act in certain ways under appropriate conditions This book considers biblical examples of divine promise from both Old and New Testaments All speech acts depend upon institutional facts and Thiselton argues that in the biblical writings Divine promises are based on the prior institution of God s covenant That same covenant forms the institutional context of prayer Thiselton shows how different kinds of prayer blessing thanksgiving and praise petition and intercession count as speech acts in different ways and to different degrees

Analyzing Prayer Oliver D. Crisp,James M. Arcadi,Jordan Wessling,2022 Analyzing Prayer draws together a range of theologians and philosophers to deal with different approaches to prayer as a Christian practice The essays included deal with issues pertaining to petitionary prayer prayer as reorientation of oneself in the presence of God prayer by those who do not believe liturgical prayer mystical prayer whether God prays the interrelation between prayer and various forms of knowledge theologizing as a form of prayer lament and prayer prayer and God s presence and even prayer and the meaning of life The volume contains cutting edge studies on a neglected topic of theological study that contributes to the broadening of themes tackled by analytic theology
