A Listening Heart:

A Listening Heart David Steindl-Rast, 1983 A Listening Heart Patricia Edwards, 2020-10-10 God is searching for us He is seeking a listening heart He is looking to communicate with us anyway he can whether it is a fire through people through his word It is up to us to be on the outlook for him We may feel we are not hearing anything but he is speaking to us all day long This is our quest to find out how he is trying to get to us get our attention and what we need to do to recognize his voice The next step is to figure out who has heard him what they did and how we can follow their example to optimize our relationship with him That is how we realize our power and find happiness The Listening Heart Judy Gordon Morrow, 2013-11-25 Listen to My heart in the quiet of your heart More Life is full to overflowing but we crave an illusive more Via social networking airwaves and TV our culture tells us to strive for more stuff more activities more adventure you name it Yet we are often left feeling unfulfilled and wanting Empty even With so many demands for our attention it is difficult to quiet our minds long enough to hear the still small voice of our loving Father and to listen to the One who desires to bring us so much more than the noise of everyday life Judy Gordon Morrow discovered the more when her world was turned upside down and she knelt before God to seek Him and ask for His help More than a decade ago in tear stained notebooks she began to pen God s responses to her desperate prayers Now in The Listening Heart Judy invites you to spend a year hearing from the God Who Speaks the God who wants to speak to you Each daily devotion echoes the Father s love and care for you offering hope comfort encouragement and more a rich closeness with God that will satisfy the longings of your heart archaeological approaches in an engaging synthesis While he addresses issues of the deuteronomic redaction the author does not become bogged down in technical discussions or allow this to overshadow the holistic interpretation of the text The Listening Heart John A. Kern,2018-01-21 Excerpt from The Listening Heart A Book of Devotional Interpretations The psalmist's heart was desolate We do not know who or what was the enemy that had smitten his life down to the ground but we do know whither he turned for relief He stretched forth his hands unto God thirsting for Him as a weary land for the rain of heaven It was his prayer that with the passing of the night his grievous trial might also somehow pass away and the voice of his Deliverer be heard in loving kindness again In the morning for the morning itself is a deliverance God's strong and gentle angel of resurrection Its words unto the ends of the earth with no articulate speech or language are words of quickening power Cause me Lord to hear that Divine speech in the wakening day Waken my heart to listen to that voice which comes not from the round world or the overarching sky from winds or waters from opening blossoms or blithesome birds from sunset splendours or the dewy East and the tranquil glories of the morning that is not of them though in them all Cause me to hear Thine own voice in loving kindness saying Behold I make all things new So may I live this day as those who are alive from the dead About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
