A Journey With Poppies:

A Journey with Poppies David John Eagleton, 2003-11-20 While together on several camping trips grandfather and grandson John Moore and David John Eagleton respectively wondered what life would be like when David John is as old as his grandfather in the year 2053 Around many campfires they speculated about that future world how it will change and how David Johns life would evolve What began as whimsical speculations became more believable and from those a story was born It is the story of life in the mid twenty first century as it might exist for David John who will then be in his sixties and his teenage grandson David John III It is a story of a grandfather and grandson But it is more than that It is a commentary on what might come to pass in areas such as technology politics warfare and human relations If you have ever tried to imagine the future you know its relatively easy to dream but its downright hard to be a credible visionary However the authors have woven a mosaic of adventure romance and challenge into a believable story This book will challenge your imagination and your ability to project yourself into time fifty years in the future Read it What you find may astound you

Hines, They say that words have the power to heal to comfort and to soothe the soul And in the midst of grief and loss these words can offer us the most profound solace Mending the Grieving Heart is a powerful and moving collection of poems on grief and healing Through these words we explore the full spectrum of emotions that come with the loss of a loved one from the raw intense feelings of anger and despair to the comforting healing power of acceptance and hope Each poem is a unique and personal reflection on grief written by someone who has walked this path and come out the other side These words offer comfort and support to anyone who is struggling with loss and seeking to find their way through the darkness With a deep sense of empathy and understanding Mending the Grieving Heart is a collection that speaks to the heart and soul of the human experience It s a book that reminds us that grief is not just about pain but also about the love that we shared with those who have passed on Denial crashes in Like tumultuous waves at sea Churning emotions within Grief follows close behind An undertow that pulls and tugs Leaving emptiness in its find Acceptance takes time A gentle ebb and flow Bringing peace to the mind May we ride these waves with grace Navigating through the highs and lows Finding strength in each new space For the truth is not always easy But it brings us closer to shore Where love and healing are waiting And our spirits can be restored
