A Journey Without End:

Journey without End Andrew Nelson, Rob Curran, 2022-11-15 Journey without End chronicles the years long journey of extracontinentales African and South Asian migrants moving through Latin America toward the United States Based on five years of collaborative research between a journalist and an anthropologist this book makes an engrossing sometimes surreal narrative driven critique of how state level immigration policy fails extracontinental migrants The book begins with Kidane an Eritrean migrant who has left his pregnant wife behind to make the four year trip to North America it then picks up the natural disaster riddled voyage of Roshan and Kamala Dhakal from Nepal to Ecuador and it continues to the trials of Cameroonian exile Jane Mtebe who becomes trapped in a bizarre beachside resort town on the edge of the Dari n Gap the gateway from South to Central America Journey without End follows these migrants as their fitful voyages put them in a semi permanent state of legal and existential liminality Mercurial policy creates profit opportunities that transform migration bottlenecks Quito s tourist district a Colombian beachside resort Panama s Dari n Gap and a Mexican border town into spontaneous migration oriented spaces rife with racial gender and class exploitation Throughout this struggle migrant solidarity allows for occasional glimpses of subaltern cosmopolitanism and the possibility of mobile futures Perfect
