When preserving precious memories means welcoming unexpected changes Riva finds that her heart has room for so much more than she imagined Widowed empty nester Riva Owen lives in the Victorian house that s been in her family for three generations but finances have become a challenge she can no longer ignore Her daughter is pushing her to move and after considering all her options Riva knows selling would be the smartest course But she just can t bring herself to leave decades of memories and her cherished library filled with hundreds of books When she pursues an alternative opening her home to women like her who need a room to rent Riva is unprepared for the mix of personalities and peculiarities of her new housemates She is even more unprepared for Marcus the handsome and handy older brother of one of her new tenants The possibility of finding love again feels overwhelming even as her tenants seem to have romantic schemes of their own Warm your heart with a story of found family book lovers and a second chance at love A heartwarming contemporary romance featuring a bookish widow finding a second chance at love This small town rom com about new beginnings makes a perfect read for your book club The Laurel Music-reader William Lawrence Tomlins,1916 The Curriculum and Text-books of English Schools in the First Half of the Seventeenth Century Foster Watson,1903 The American Hereford Record and Hereford Herd Book American Hereford Cattle Breeders' Association,1920 Brief history of Hereford cattle v 1 p 359 375 Anchor and Laurel. A Tale of the Royal Marines John Percy Groves,1888 Life at Laurel Town in Anglo-Saxon Kansas Kate Stephens,1920 Many readers will find her portrayal of blacks Irish Jews and immigrants generally disturbing It is important to realize that many Americans were themselves disturbed by the flood of immigrants from southern and eastern European countries that was altering the nature of traditional American society At the same time Stephens compiled this work in 1920 at a time when many Americans were experiencing a sense of betrayal from learning of the immense profits made by the Arms Merchants from the First World War Many Americans Stephens included were swelling a nativist and isolationist tide of sentiment Kate Stephens was a disillusioned woman and wrote Life in Laurel Town in Anglo Saxon Kansas to recall what her world had been like She remembered a Lawrence still peopled by the men and women who had staked their lives in a bitter and bloody struggle against slavery and a University whose function it was to call the young men and women of Kansas to higher ideals rather than to entertain them and prepare them for better paying jobs Beneath the rhetoric and racism Stephens was attempting to explain problems that we are confronting once again the decay of civic virtue a growing tendency to deny individual responsibility the decay of common ideals and a loss of respect for a heritage for which our forbears fought and died Lynn H Nelson The Kansas Collection Transactions of the Bibliographical Society Bibliographical Society (Great Britain),1903 List of members in v 1 God and the Great Detective Nathanael T. Booth,2023-10-16 The problem of human evil is never far beneath the surface of mystery fiction This was particularly true in the wake of the horrific events of World War II One figure who set out to investigate this crisis was Ellery Queen This book provides a much needed intervention in the study of detective fiction by giving sustained attention to Ellery Queen as well as suggesting possible directions for broader discussions of the genre After the war Queen mounted an inquiry into the state of masculinity and of the world in the wake of unimaginable horrors represented by the death camps and the atomic bomb During his investigation Ellery rummaged through the ruins of culture invoking and evoking figures such as Walt Whitman Henry David Thoreau and naturally Edgar Allan Poe Ultimately this quest brought him up against an unexpected foe God himself This book examines the ways Queen pushes against the boundaries of what was and in some circles still is considered possible or desirable in the genre The Historical Record Frederick Charles Johnson,1888 The Green Laurel Eleanor Spence,1965 The American Hereford Record, and Hereford Herd Book ,1920 The American Aberdeen-Angus Herd-book American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association,1910 Transactions Mississippi State Medical Association,1921 Includes roll of members constitution and by laws and code of ethics
